RUEF PROMISED PARDON

SIGN KEYMEN'S SCHEDULE

FINANCING SALE OF CONFESSIONS

There Is a $5,000,000 Steal in Sale of Spring Valley to San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—That the graft prosecution and the Spring Valley Water Company are one and the same thing is becoming more apparent each day. "Graft and water, one and indivisible," will soon be the battle cry of the reformers.

The interests that undertook to refinance Spring Valley two years ago now stand to "clean-up" $5,000,000 or $6,000,000, or to lose $20,000,000. A divergence of $25,000,000 between profit and loss would cause even Standard Oil to sit up and take notice. Not only did the Spring Valley sit up but it stood up and became very active in building back fires for its own defense. Being a past grandmaster in the arts of boodle and particularly the boodling of Supervisors, the knowledge the agents of that corporation possessed in that specialty was brought into play.

TRAP LAID.

The first steps taken by the prosecution was to trap and bribe supervisors as a basis of securing confessions from the members of that board relative to similar transactions. It is current gossip that some of the officials who squealed or made confessions were paid for doing so. It is alleged that in addition to being guaranteed immunity for their other felonies, they were paid sums ranging from $10,000 to $30,000 for their confessions. Whether this story be true or not there certainly must have been some reason for the extreme consideration shown by the prosecution for the feelings of the felon officials who had boastfully confessed their crimes, or such of them as were required for the purposes of the prosecution. The treatment of the official criminals by the prosecution has approached a delicacy almost indicating fear that any but a most sensitive treatment might rebound to the damage of the prosecution itself.

GREAT DELICACY.

As illustrative of this condition, the delicacy with which the "big stick" ap-

NOT ONE WORD AGAINST ROOSEVELT

E. H. Harriman Arrives on Private Train

Edward H. Harriman, president of the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific railway systems, accompanied by his two sons, Roland and Averell, together with several professional men and railway magnates, arrived in this city this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the broad-gauge mole, on a pleasure tour and will remain in this city for a rest of perhaps a week, after which, accompanied by his sons, he will go to his hunting lodge near Klamath lake in Oregon.

Harriman and party traveled in a special train comprising seven cars. These cars were the Oregon, the Otsego, the Berkeley, the Guadaloupe, the Avonia and the Arden, the last named being the car which Harriman occupies.

DOCTOR ON TRAIN.

Among the people on the train were Dr. Lyle, a private physician of Harriman, and Professor Taylor, who acts as tutor for the two sons of the great railway financier, both of New York; Julius Kruttschnitt, J. P. O'Brien, vice-president and general manager of the Harriman railway system of the northwest, with headquarters at Portland, Oregon. E. E. Calvin, general superintendent of the Southern Pacific system in this vicinity; E. Randolph, general manager of the Harriman system in Arizona, and W. H. Hill, private secretary to Harriman.

Harriman took the 2:30 boat for San Francisco and will make his headquarters at the Fairmont Hotel. Harriman was seen by a TRIBUNE reporter, who propounded a number of questions while the boat was waiting, with the following result:

"Who is your candidate for President?"

HAS NO CANDIDATE.

"I have no candidate. Any good man will be satisfactory."

"What is the purpose of your visit to the coast?"

"I am here on a vacation and I am doing all the loafing I can."

"Are you going to Mexico?"

"No, I am not: at least so far as I can foretell at the present time."

"What have you to say about the 2-cent fare on railroads?"

NOTHING ON RATE.

"I am not giving it any thought at the present time. I have paid no attention to it at all."

"How do you consider California and the Pacific coast?"

"Why, what is the matter with them? Is there anything the matter with them? I consider California and the Pacific coast great, and they are destined to be greater."

"Has the Southern Pacific anything good in store for Oakland?"

"If it had, we would not let out until the time came to deliver it."

"What about the carrying of freight across at Dumbarton Point from Alameda county to San Francisco?"

DIVERT BRIDGE.

"That will be done to a great extent when the bridge is built, but I cannot say when that will be."

"It has been said here that President Roosevelt, for the purpose of injuring you and your prestige here, allowed Heney, a special United States district attorney, to prosecute the graft cases in San Francisco. Is that true?"

"I don't believe it; but at the same time it would make no difference to me whatever."

WILL MAKE IMPROVEMENTS.

"Along what lines is the Southern Pacific making improvements?"

"It is making improvements in every department of railroad work and these improvements may be seen all the way from the place at which we stand as far as the Sierras. We are digging tunnels, shortening and straightening tracks, improving our rolling stock, and doing everything that can be expected to maintain the reputation of the Southern Pacific as a first-class road, worthy of the patronage of the people."

"Is there any great advance to be made in the accommodations by your company in San Francisco?"

"We are making big advances here, as you can see yourself, and those will be continued as long as the service will warrant it, and I have no doubt that it will be continued some time because San Francisco will continue to grow."

"It has been rumored that yourself and Mr. Hearst have become friends and intend to work together in advancing political interests?"

SUPREMELY RIDICULOUS.

"That is supremely ridiculous. It is perhaps a newspaper story that has no foundation. Newspapers, you know, do not always get things right."

"What do you think of San Francisco?"

"San Francisco is all right. It is doing well, but San Francisco is not the State of California. San Francisco is great because California is great. It is the State of California that makes San Francisco, with some assistance from the Orient."

"If the Union Labor party should be successful in San Francisco this year what would you then think of San Francisco?"

"I don't know what I might think of it. At present I am entirely indifferent to it and I think I shall remain so."

"How do you understand the feeling of the people of the State of California toward your company?"

"We do what the people want and we strive not to do what the people do not want. At times they want us to do things, though, and at the same time will not let us do them."

NOTHING ON ROOSEVELT.

"Would you like to say anything about President Roosevelt?"

"I have not a word to say about him. Any good man will satisfy me."

"What are some of those things which you say the people want you to do and at the same time will not let you do them?"

Just then one of the warfingers announced that the boat was starting and Harriman smiled adieu, without having time to answer the question.

PHILLIPS SPRINGS COURT SENSATION

Heney Tries in Vain to Block Testimony Favorable to Louis Glass.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—That Ruef was promised complete immunity by the graft prosecutors was the statement made by former Supervisor J. J. Phillips in the Glass trial this morning.

Heney made strenuous efforts to prevent Phillips from giving this testimony, but his objections were overruled by Judge Lawlor.

MRS. BOXTON ON STAND.

Mrs. Boxton was the first witness called in the Glass trial this morning. After a few preliminary questions Deputy District Attorney O'Gara asked Mrs. Boxton: "In the early part of March, 1906, did you receive an envelope from your husband containing some money?"

Objections were made by the defense. The court overruled them.

"Not in the early part of March," was the answer.

"When was it?"

"Late in March."

"How much was there?"

"$1000 in bills."

"What did you do with it?"

"I don't remember exactly. I think I put it in the safety deposit vault."

"What safety deposit vault?"

"The United States National, I think."

WOMAN IS AGITATED.

Mrs. Boxton was more agitated than on her appearance at the former trial. She was modestly gowned, and wore diamonds as usual. Each time she spoke she seemed to catch her breath with difficulty.

Mrs. Lonergan was called immediately afterward, but was not in court. J. J. Phillips was put upon the stand. Phillips

SALOON BOXES UNDER BAN OF CITY COUNCIL

Elliott and Ellsworth Clash Over Renewal

The new rule adopted by the license committee of the city council requiring applicants for liquor licenses to appear in person when applying, either for new licenses or renewal of old ones, caused the council chambers to be crowded last night with saloon keepers or their agents. In addition there was a large attendance of women and two ministers of the Gospel ready to voice their protests against the granting of certain licenses. The great majority of the women were present to oppose the application of Henry Rose Martin for a license to keep a saloon at 1206 Market street, facing Fourteenth street. They had canvassed the region around about to a distance of several blocks with a protest and had 168 signatures attached. Many of these signers were present.

WOMEN PROTEST.

Among the protesting residents were: Dr. Sarah I. Shuey, Dr. Pauline S. Nusbaumer, Dr. Myra Knox, Dr. Cora A. Buckel, Jennie A. Knowles, Mary A. Tripp, Ida Hyle, Mabel M. Grange, Florence Mulford, Kate Hess, Sarah W. Horton of Horton School, Lucy Anthony, Minnie Sadler, Ida Hyle, Clara Megahan, W. S. Golden, Frank J. Golden, W. H. Golden, C. Parchald, Alfred Burke.

MARTIN IS DENIED.

Evidently Martin feared to face the issue or the battery of bright eyes, for when he was called on to appear and show himself, there was no response.

"The application is denied," at once announced Chairman Ellsworth. Then addressing the lobby he announced that Martin's application had been disposed of by denying it.

There was applause, rustling skirts and four-fifths of the women retired from the scene; only a half dozen remaining.

IS NOT A CITIZEN.

Councilman Everhart moved that the application of A. Bruschini for a license to conduct a saloon at 1691 Seventh street be denied, saying that the applicant was

FRESNO'S MAYOR TO PUSH LIBEL CHARGE AGAINST GUN WIELDER

J. F. Upson, an owner of houses of ill-repute in Fresno, was arraigned in the Police court this morning on a charge of exhibiting indecent pictures preferred by Mayor W. Parker Lyon of Fresno. His case went over until tomorrow to be set.

This morning Mayor Lyon gave out the following statement of the incidents which lead up to Upson's arrest.

"Last Thursday, while I was on an automobile trip from Fresno through the bay counties, I stopped at the residence of Mr. [illegible]. While I was standing in the rear of his house Upson approached me from behind and, at the point of a revolver forced me to read a book which he had published, and threatened that if I did not immediately give him an order directing the chief of police to allow him to re-open his tenderloin property, he would distribute 50,000 copies of the scurrilous booklet through the State. The wording of the book is too infamous and obscene to publish, and could only have been told a new story of the manner in which Halsey approached him.

PHILLIPS SPRINGS BIG SENSATION IN GLASS CASE

"Halsey told me," he said, "that the Home Company had been opposed to the union labor party politically, that he knew they had put up money to defeat us. He offered this as one reason why we should stand with the Pacific Telephone Company."

PHILLIPS SEEMS RELUCTANT.

Phillips is a more convincing witness than either Boxton or Lonergan. He does not become facetious in his testimony. He was rather reluctant to go into details. When he saw Halsey in the Mills building he says he told him he could not stand with him unless released by Mr. Ruef.

Halsey offered him $7500, and he refused.

"Later on the same day he sent for me again," said Phillips. "He said he had a majority of the supervisors. From what he knew, r. Ruef was favorable to it. I agreed to stand with him. He then gave me an envelope. He also promised to give me $5000 when the Home Telephone ordinance was defeated."

"What did you do with the envelope?" asked Mr. O'Gara.

"I put it in a safe. I did not know what was in it at the time. Later I opened it and put $2500 in a safe deposit vault."

WAS RUEF'S HENCHMAN.

Attorney Delmas, on cross-examination, brought out the fact that Phillips did not consider himself free to vote on any important question without the sanction of Abe Ruef.

This point was brought out to show that if the corporation paid bribes, it was because they were held up. According to Phillips, Ruef had a hard time to hold his men in line. Phillips says he went from Halsey's office to see Ruef, and that Ruef refused to release him. From there he went to his own office and finding another telephone message from Halsey, went back and accepted the bribe.

"I told him," said Phillips, "that he would have to show me he had a majority of the board. As I voted thirteenth or fourteenth in the list I could tell whether he had them when it came to a vote."

PLAYED EACH OTHER FALSE.

Ruef and the boodling board were shown as playing false with each other before the exposure came. Attorney Delmas, on cross-examination, dwelt upon the testimony of Phillips at the former trial to the effect that Ruef told him Halsey was trying to get the board away from him (Ruef) and that he would be glad to have the supervisors take the money and punish Halsey.

Phillips told more about the immunity contract issued recently, when the old board resigned. He said he received his contract immediately after resigning, and that it was signed by Mr. Langdon, Mr. Heney and Mr. Gallagher as witnesses.

Mr. Heney made strenuous objections to a question by Attorney Delmas as to whether Phillips understood that Ruef was to be granted immunity. Judge Lawlor overruled the objection. Phillips testified that he did so understand.

Attorney Delmas asked a number of declamatory sentences of Phillips. "Do you not know," he said, "that Mr. Ruef has pleaded guilty to one indictment?"

"Yes," was the answer.

"Do you not know that no other indictment against him has been brought to trial?"

"Yes."

"Do you not know that although Mr. Ruef has pleaded guilty he has never yet been sentenced. That he is living at a private residence at the expense of thousands of dollars to the city?"

"Yes," was the answer.

COUNSEL IN CONFLICT.

Then followed the first sharp conflict of the day between counsel. Mr. Heney told the witness that he had contradicted himself in trying to answer Mr. Delmas' question as he wanted him to. It was about the statement that Ruef wanted to punish Halsey. Phillips had said originally that Ruef said "Halsey should be punished."

Later Mr. Delmas got him to testify that he wanted to punish Hlasey. Mr. Heney told the witness to testify exactly to what happened. Delmas objected. Heney retorted "I tis no worse than for Mr. Delmas to lead this witness by adroit questions to contradict himself."

The judge allowed Mr. Heney to draw out the fact that Phillips did not remember having heard Ruef say he wanted to punish Halsey.

HENEY ANSWERS DELMAS.

Then Heney came back with some declamation in reply to that of Attorney Delmas. Among other things he asked Phillips if he did not know that the reason Ruef had not been brought to trial was because he was trying to delay the process of law by dilatory tactics as counsel in this case had been trying to do in this and other cases.

"What does this mean?" asked Delmas in amazement, and then, as if to take the jury into his confidence that it was only a play of Heney, he settled back and let it pass.

Court was adjourned until 2:30 o'clock in order to let Judge Lawlor and Attorney O'Gara appear as witnesses against Zimmer in te misdemeanor case.

TWO CHARGES AGAINST UPSON

written by a man of indescribably vile habits and tendencies.

RECORD IS BAD.

"Upson has been arrested many times in Fresno and San Francisco for various crimes. On July 1 last, he was released from the Fresno jail after serving six months for living in a house of prostitution. He has a record of depravity and indecent living in San Francisco which is wellnigh unbelievable. Only a short time ago he boasted to the chief of police in Fresno that he had no fear of the law. He was able to evade it successfully in San Francisco and he was sure there was no one in Fresno smart enough to catch him.

"The book was entitled, 'Dope on a Mayor,' and it contained insinuations concerning myself and my family which are so vile, that I believe no jury in the land would convict me if I were to kill the man. It was a mass of obscenity, illustrated with disgusting photographs which had been doctored up to apply to me and my friends. The head of one of my own photographs had been pasted on a photograph of indescribable vileness, and then engraved and printed in the book. The whole subject matter was the product of a diseased and degenerate imagination.

TO CHARGE LIBEL.

"The introduction of the book was a poem of unspeakable filthiness, ascribed to Oscar Wilde. I intend to push the prosecution of Upson, and will probably swear to a new complaint this morning charging him with criminal libel."

When seen in the city prison this morning Upson attempted to make light of the charges preferred by Lyons. He denied absolutely the story that he had published the pamphlet, alleged to contain obscene and filthy references to the Mayor's personal life, or that he had displayed a revolver during his visit to Lyons in Cloverdale. He acknowledged that he had had certain difficulties with Lyons in regard to business matters in Fresno, and wound up by making a number of attacks on his character and administration. These were scurrious in their nature, and had no bearing on the present difficulties between them. Upson refused to disclose the object of his visit to the Fresno executive in Cloverdale, except to say that it was a matter of business.

CALLS CHARGES ASSURD.

"I know nothing about the book that is alleged to have been shown to Lyons, except what I have read in the papers. The charges preferred by Lyons are absurd. I know nothing about his private life and I am not a publisher. I will say, however, that I have had various difficulties with Lyons during his administration. For political reasons he closed up property which belonged to me in the tenderloin districts of Fresno, and cut off my revenue therefrom. I am the owner of several buildings which are used as cribs there, and these were closed through Lyon's influence. I did not manage these places myself, but leased them. I want to say that I purchased the furnishings for these houses from the Mayor himself. I do not know what motive influenced Lyons in making these charges against me except that he wants to get me out of Fresno so that friends of his can get control of my property there."

The Chamber of Commerce has given its approval to the movement to establish a publicity company in Berkeley at the request of Major George C. Pardee.

proached McGushin when the latter declined to resign his office of supervisor may be recalled. The ordinary Heney-Burns method is to take extreme measures with a malcacitrant. But McGushin flouted the "big stick" and was not even mildly disciplined for it. It is talked in graft circles that the price set by McGushin for his confession was $10,000.

Supervisor W. W. Sanderson, it is said, received $15,000 for his confession. The graft gossips even go into details in relation to this alleged transaction. They say that Sanderson was willing to confess but thought he should be paid for it. His plea is said to have been that he was about to die and he wished to make some provision for his family. The prosecution at that time had made no progress in its efforts to uncover boodle among public officials. The interests that were putting up the money demanded an accounting. A trial balance was ordered. Sanderson's statement was much desired and the story runs that $15,000 was paid to a member of the Sanderson family as a sort of provision for her maintenance after the death of the supervisor. The attitude of the prosecution is said to have been one of pure philanthrophy accentuated by sympathy.

FINANCING CONFESSIONS.

The names of Supervisors Gallagher and Boxton are also mentioned in connection with the financing of confessions. Boxton, when interviewed on that subject, denied that he ever received any money and explained: "The story probably had its start from the fact that when I heard they wanted some confessions I said, 'That ought to be worth at least $50,000 to Spreckels.'"

That the deferring of any action on the part of the supervisors to bring a competing supply of potable water to San Francisco, was worth a large sum of money to Spring Valley is apparent from the undisputed condition of the finances of that corporation. The graft prosecution has succeeded in effecting a delay for one year at least. No practical action tending to the bringing of a supply from the Sierras can be taken until the next annual budget is prepared one year hence.

Had not the most strenuous measures been taken by the prosecution going even to the placing of the board of supervisors under the rule of the "big stick" and Abe Ruef in private custody, some action would have been taken before this tending to the relief of San Francisco on the water question.

SPRING VALLEY.

Two years ago when I. W. Hellman undertook to finance the Spring Valley, he and the other bankers in the syndicate purchased from the company bonds of a face value of $14,500,000 with which to redeem the old or outstanding bonds of the corporation. It is said that these bonds were sold to Hellman at about .90, or $900 for each $1000 bond. In consideration of this sale Hellman agreed to purchase 500 more of the new issue of bonds at $930 each. This $465,000 was to be used for extensions and repairs of the works of the company. The purchase price was to have been paid on March 1 last, but instead of enforcing this condition the water company, which is practically Banker Hellman himself, granted an extension until December 1, 1907.

Now Spring Valley is endeavoring to induce the city to purchase its plant. James D. Phelan, who appears to have constituted himself the godfather of water for San Francisco, has taken his seat in the board of supervisors, which he has a right to do under the charter, he being an ex-Mayor of the city. At a recent meeting Phelan pooh-poohed the pleas of Spring Valley for aims with which to mend its broken pipes and place its delivery system in condition to permit of its business being properly conducted. The attitude of Phelan is regarded as a part of the Spring Valley game, as both he and Spreckels are closely allied in the "graft" prosecution and also largely interested in Spring Valley securities through their banks, the First National and the Mutual.

PHELAN AN ADVOCATE.

Phelan is an ardent advocate of the Hetch Hetchy or Tuolumne water scheme, which is regarded in water circles as merely a blind for the sale of Spring Valley to the city. While no price has been placed on Spring Valley by the water and graft combination, a committee calling itself the Civic League, and presumably representing some of the large financial interests of the city, has intimated that Spring Valley will sell to the city for $28,000,000. But, of course, there is a joker, or a whole pack of jokers, in this offer. Under it the water company proposes to withhold all its Lake Merced properties, which were appraised by real estate experts at $7,000,000 two years ago. Other properties, including the Coyote creek water supply and additional valuable holdings of the company, are also to be withheld from the city. All the properties have heretofore been dclared by the company to be essential to their system and the taxpayers of San Francisco have been paying interest on them for many years in the form of water rates. Taking the Lake Merced properties alone at $7,000,000 and add that to the price proposed to be charged the city, and a sale price of $35,000,000 is arrived at. Two years ago the officers of Spring Valley offered to sell their whole plant to W. F. Cragin, an Eastern promoter, for $30,000,000. And here is where the $5,000,000 clean-up, boodle, or graft, the taxpayers are expected to pay comes in. There is a clear graft of $5,000,000 on the company's own figures, irrespective of the Coyote creek and other properties that are withheld. Promoter Cragin, to whom the properties were offered for $30,000,000, and that before they were shattered by the disaster of 1906, was no figment of the financial world, but came here as the representative of H. B. Hollins & Co., the New York bankers, who include among their clients the Vanderbilts.

TREMENDOUS STEAL.

Should another supply of water be brought into San Francisco, all that Spring Valley would have left of the property it proposes to sell to San Francisco—exclusive of the $7,000,000 in real estate it is proposed to hold out—would be its service plant. This latter has been appraised at $8,000,000. Competition would mean a loss of $20,000,000 to Spring Valley and those financing it. To sell to the city for $28,000,000 after withdrawing property valued at $7,000,000 would mean a profit of at least $5,000,000 to the promoters of the scheme.

CONSISTENCY
The Guide of Our Faith

We have tried all methods of doing business. We have allowed salesmen to take their own course, and to sell goods according to their own ideas until we found it most disastrous to our welfare and reputation. The average salesman finds it much easier to sell any class of goods by leading the purchaser to believe that they are getting $2 for $1, but the hard feelings that are wrought by this method are most disastrous, and we have decided to eliminate them from our methods.

Ours is the only strictly one-price house, we believe, west of the Mississippi, possibly with one exception, where you can purchase a piano for its real intrinsic value, where no misrepresentations are made, regarding its quality, price or durability. Every salesman is instructed to enlighten every customer as to the exact grade and quality of every piano sold before purchase is made.

An iron-clad guarantee, backed up by six world-renowned pianos, goes with every instrument. They are Knabe, Mason & Hamlin, Packard, Ludwig, Canover and Hardman pianos. This guarantee gives you the privilege of exchanging any piano purchased here, if you are not perfectly satisfied, any time within three years, and full purchase price will be applied on any of the above makes.

Referring to consistency, which is the word heading our ad, we feel the foregoing method is the only consistent method to follow when doing business with enlightened people, for we know what the general public think of fake methods of selling pianos, for example:

A $700 piano to be sold for $376.25, or some other similar price on account of high rate of insurance, lack of a stenographer, remodeling a store, shortage of stock, and many other inconsistent reasons.

Call at the one-price store, where prices are always the same and far below all competitors. This we can prove if you will give us a chance.

LEGISLATIVE HARBOR COMMITTEE DEFENDED

In the following letter receipted by Rufus P. Jennings, chairman of the California Promotion Committee, State Senator Wright of San Diego, chairman of the Legislative Committee on California Harbors, comes out in defense of the committee against Dr. George C. Pardee's recent attack upon its work and the purposes of its appointment:

San Diego, California, Aug. 12, 1907.

Rufus P. Jennings, Esq.,
Chairman California Promotion Committee, San Francisco, California.

Dear Mr. Jennings:—

Your recent favor informing me that Ex-Governor George C. Pardee is attempting to discredit the work of the Legislative Harbor Committee has been carefully considered. As the ultimate success of the work of this commission depends largely upon the degree of public confidence it enjoys, the attack made upon its integrity is much to be regretted.

No one knows better than yourself that this movement for the improvement of our harbors upon a comprehensive plan is wholly and unreservedly in the interests of the entire State. You also know how utterly false is the charge that the purpose of the commission is to give to any corporation, railroad or otherwise, the control of any or all of the harbors, or to perpetrate any control that any railroad company or companies may now have. On the contrary, the purpose of the commission is to make ocean commerce as free from all burdens as possible. The harbors of the State must be made open doors to all shipping, and existing railroads and those which may be constructed in the future must be given every reasonable facility, in order that their cars may meet the ships. Care will be taken to reserve terminal facilities at all of the harbors of the State for new transcontinental railroads, which, in the very near future, will be bidding for their share of the ocean commerce. To connive at defeating such a result would be a great crime against the progress and development of California.

The committee's report, together with its recommendations, will be made public sufficiently in advance of the next session of the Legislature to permit a thorough discussion of its merits and demerits. Instead of condemning the work of the commission critics should give their time and energy toward directing its investigations along proper lines, and in avoiding things they fear. The work is of sufficient importance to command the united efforts of every section and influence in the State.

I have confidence in the good judgment of Dr. Pardee and believe, if you will give him the history of the organization of this committee, he will see the error into which he has fallen and do what he can to correct the impressions he has caused to be published.

As for myself, I am too busy attending to the details of the work entrusted to the committee and to my own private affairs to ented into a newspaper controversy concerning a charge which is as false as false can be.

The work of the commission was conceived and fathered by the California Promotion Committee. The State Legislature created the commission and authorized the work and the committee will continue its labors to the end as faithfully as it can, confident that the result will be the best answer to the suspicions of well meaning, but misguided critics.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) LEROY A. WRIGHT,
Chairman Legislation Committee on California Harbors.

TWO DROWNED TRYING TO SAVE

Lad Drags Would-Be Rescuers to Death With Him Beneath Waves.

BURLINGAME, Aug. 16.—While trying to save Clarence Bell, a 17-year-old boy, from drowning, John B. Brooke, instructor in English at the St. Matthew Military Academy, and son of the Episcopal Bishop of Oklahoma, and George W. Smith, instructor of mathematics at Stanford University, were dragged under the water by the lad they were trying to rescue off Burlingame beach yesterday, and all three were drowned.

Both men went to their death in response to what they considered a call to duty, having left the military academy with Dell and a number of other students to watch over them while they went in bathing.

Dell, who is a nephew of John M. Carrere, the New York architect, was one of the first students to reach the water. He was regarded as an unusually good swimmer for a boy of his age and was in the water several minutes when he was seen to turn and make for the beach.

Presently his hands went up and he began shouting for help. Three other boys swimming close by heard him cry that he had cramps and tried to work up close to him and support him in the water.

Dell was beginning to sink, however, and Brooke, who was walking on the pier with Smith, dove overboard fully dressed, not taking time to remove even his shoes.

TWO TO RESCUE.

Dell's head was just disappearing when Brooke grabbed the boy about the shoulders. In his excitement Dell turned and clutched Brooke around the arms. Brooke was a practiced swimmer, but he was rendered helpless by the clutch of the boy and both were beginning to sink when Smith plunged into the water fully dressed and went to the rescue.

Smith endeavored to release Dell's hold on Brooke, but the boy was so aware of his presence than he swung one arm free and encircled Smith's neck with it.

Smith struggled determinedly to make use of his arms, but the boy's deathlock was on him as well as Brooke and all three sank and did not appear again.

Brooke, who was 25 years old, had been instructor of English at St. Matthew's Military Academy for two years. He was a graduate of Kenyon College of Gambier, Ohio, where he had passed the examination and qualified for the Cecil Rhodes scholarship.

Smith attended Stanford University from 1902 to 1905 and was known as one of the best ends that ever played with the varsity eleven. He was 27 years old. At St. Matthew's he was especially popular with the students, acting as coach of the football teams and taking an active interest in promoting sports. News of his death has been telegraphed to his mother, who is living at Denver.

The incoming tide washed the body of Dell ashore last evening just as it was becoming dark. Efforts were made to resuscitate the boy by Dr. F. M. Seibe and Dr. W. C. Chidester, but they were obliged to confess after working over him for more than an hour that he was past aid.

The bodies of Brooke and Smith were recovered shortly before 11 o'clock last night.

The Macdonough Theater was packed evening to listen to one of the best ...ville benefit shows ever given on ...Coast. The entire program from in... to finish was of high-class and ...received. Instead of the Ad Club ...leaving the public enough for the ... of admission it gave them the ... of plenty.

The purpose of giving this benefit was for entertaining the Pacific Coast Ad Men's Convention to be held here in January, at which time newspaper men from all over the Coast will be in attendance, thereby affording Oakland an excellent opportunity to show her attractions.

Many strong acts were presented, notable among which were the selections by the Berkeley quartet, with Mr. Clinton K. Morse as leader, and the stunt of Swore and Westbrook, song and dance artists, now at the Empire, both of which were decidedly clever. George Friend and associates from Ye Liberty, in the scene from "Heartsease," received a deserved recognition.

DEATH CLOSES MAD AUTO RACE

Millionaire Paul McCormick Fatally Injured and Wife Instantly Killed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The sensational romance which for years has attached to the names of the young millionaire Paul McCormick and the beautiful society matron, Mrs. Carey E. Converse, was ended in blood yesterday when she was instantly killed and he fatally injured in a frightful automobile wreck in Darien, Conn.

Two other women were badly hurt in the tragic ending of the romance.

Racing sixty miles an hour with another machine all the way from New Haven to Stamford, young McCormick hurled his great auto into the rear of a buggy and then crashed from the road into a maple tree.

When the coroner reached the scene two hours later the woman sat bolt upright in her seat, her head laid open and a great gaping hole in her side. Forty feet away upon the hillside lay the millionaire, his skull fractured, both legs broken, unconscious and at the point of death.

The rival automobile had sped away, stopping only to learn that death ended the race. The two women who occupied the buggy escaped with fractured shoulders and arms.

The violent finish of the McCormick-Converse alliance had often been predicted by those who knew the origin of its beginning.

McCormick, the scion of the richest and oldest family of Poughkeepsie, became a "speed fiend" the first day automobiling was introduced into this country. Mrs. Converse was the wife of a wealthy merchant in Poughkeepsie, but in spite of the social leadership she held and the family to which she had hitherto been devoted, she eloped with the young chauffeur in the "red devil" four years ago.

The couple toured the country at breakneck speed, while the deserted husband sued McCormick for $100,000 damages and his wife for divorce. Finally McCormick paid $5000 for the release of Mrs. Converse from her marriage vows and married her himself.

BOXTON SWEARS BURNS TOLD HIM TO TELL LIE

By Edward H. Hamilton.

(From the San Francisco Examiner, August 16.)

Dr. Charles Boxton, former Supervisor, under oath and on the witness stand, has openly accused Detective William J. Burns of advising him to make oath to a falsehood.

The startling accusation came out in the Glass trial yesterday afternoon. Boxton made it in anger—blurted it out when he had been forced by Heney to tell of bribe-taking that he hitherto had denied.

The declaration took away the breath of those who heard it, and the case closed for the day with the thrill of Boxton's vehement denunciation still in the air.

It all came out over the incident when Boxton was trapped by Golden M. Roy, or Moritz M. Golden, and given marked bills provided by Rudolph Spreckels Boxton had told of the incident when Roy called him up and how he had found Spreckels, Burns, Heney and Langdon at Roy's house, and how they had tried to make him confess his boodling.

BOXTON WARY WITNESS.

He had carefully avoided saying anything about whether or not he really had received the $500 from Roy supposedly on the skating rink ordinance.

Toward the day's close Delmas asked him:

"Is it a fact that you never had received this $500 from Mr. Roy?"

"I never have admitted it," said Boxton, shifting uneasily and coloring.

"Had you received it?" asked Delmas.

"I don't know what that has to do with this case," growled the witness, truculently.

At first Delmas pressed the question, but relented and withdrew it. But at once Heney came back with:

"Had you received it?"

"I withdraw the question," hastily said Delmas.

"We press it," said Heney, hotly.

"Answer the question, Dr. Boxton," ordered Judge Lawlor, sharply.

Boxton hesitated, chewed his mustache and looked angry. The reporter had to repeat the question, "Had you received it?"

"I had!" at last snapped the witness. Then he growled: "I was told to deny it, and even to make an affidavit to that effect."

BOXTO NACCUSES BURNS.

"Who told you that?"

"Detective Burns! He advised me to deny it, and even said I should make an affidavit of denial. He also told me Spreckels had provided the $500 bribe money and had kept the numbers of the papers—the bills. I told Mr. Heney what Burns advised me to do. He told me to tell it all. I suppose Burns was trying to protect Roy from the newspapers.

"I supposed I was going to receive the same protection myself, but when I am asked the question right out here it doesn't look like it. I told the newspapers on the advice of Burns that I did not get the money. When Roy first sent for me he said he hadn't given me the money—hadn't had any business transaction with me. Then, about a week afterward, when I wasn't at home, he rang up on the telephone and tearfully told my wife to tell me he had told the prosecution all."

"What did she say to him?"

"She hung up on him mighty quick."

This was the day's thriller and with it the witness was dismissed from the stand and court adjourned. Then Heney added to the events of the case by openly charging H. M. Owens, Boxton's lawyer, with selling the secrets of his client.

"It is Owens that Boxton should be angry with—not with me," ripped out the great prosecutor. "Owens has been selling his secrets to the newspapers. It was Owens who gave the papers that immunity contract. I suppose he got $500 for it.

"If the defense knew anything about Burns' advice to Boxton, they got it from Owens I suppose Burns advised him to deny that he had received the money from Roy, and he may even have told him to make an affidavit to that effect. But it was not a denial or an affidavit to be used in these prosecutions. It was merely to keep the newspapers from getting the story prematurely and spoiling everything. That's all there was to that."

"Whew! What do you think of that testimony?" asked Attorney T. C. Coogan. "That tough—trying to get a witness to swear to a falsehood"

Which shows the two views of the testimony. Beyond this incident the case proceeded calmly. The crowd was made up mostly of professional court loungers—the same old faces—though here and there a bonnet showed. Zimmer and Krause and Miss Mary Ryan were in attendance, but were not called to the stand. Glass sat during the day bunched up in a heap or resting a weary head upon his hands.

Good Bargains for Wise Women

(From the Examiner of August 15.)

There are many merchants wondering now how they can get rid of the things left over before the season of Autumn selling shall commence.

There are bargains in the stores, and wise women can combine profit and amusement by traveling around the stores at this time.

The foolish man jokes about the bargain counter. The wiser women crowd AROUND the bargain counter.

This is the season when bargains are ripest, because the merchants have GOT to sell. They need the room. Their profit has been made on goods sold at full prices earlier in the season, and in many cases they are actually only too glad to take now less than they paid for merchandise.

It is idiocy to suppose that the bargain counter represents the result of poorly paid work, or that it represents inferior goods.

The bargain counter represents the effort of one merchant to eclipse another. Advertising costs a great deal and some merchants put part of their advertising allowance into selling below cost. The woman who gets the bargain advertises the store.

Sometimes—at this season especially—the bargain counter represents mistakes of "buyers" for the big stores. They overdid the buying, took in more than the public could absorb—and now the counters must be cleared to make room for other goods.

There are real chances now—the wise woman will seize them, instead of waiting until the time when everybody tries to buy at once.

Don't despise the bargain counter. It is the best friend of the careful, economical woman.

Sidelights on the Graft Crusade.

The revelations in the Glass trial are illuminating, to say the They throw an interesting sidelight on the morals as well methods of the gentlemen who are directing the prosecutions graft cases. The testimony of Dr. Charles Boxton, the star of Burns and Heney, is of special interest.

Dr. Boxton testified in the first trial of Glass that he became coufer during his first term as a Supervisor, and kept reaching money in every direction till his predatory activities led to his apment. Burns enlisted Boxton as a witness for the prosecution inducing one Roy to bribe him with marked bills furnished by olph Spreckels. Instead of arresting and prosecuting Boxton, as guaranteed him immunity from punishment on condition that would testify as the prosecution wished against certain corporamanagers Mr. Spreckels desired to send to State prison. This gain was embodied in a written contract signed by District torney Langdon and witnessed by Burns.

Boxton while on the stand as a witness for the prosecution now ifies that Burns advised him to commit perjury, and that he d Mr. Heney of what Burns had advised him to do. Burns ired to conceal the method by which Boxton had been induced to come a swift witness against the so-called "higher-ups," the game r. Spreckels and Mr. Heney are really after. Boxton indignantly cused Mr. Heney of breaking faith with him, and blurted out the t that Burns had advised him to commit perjury.

Burns is the private detective in the employ of Mr. Spreckels' mmittee who has been assailing the reputation of jurors in the ase case, and who has been whispering to newspaper reporters il insinuations against Justices of the Supreme Court. If the timony of that worthy is to be believed, Burns told Boodler nergan, also a star witness for the prosecution, that he would be owed to keep the boodle if he would swear to "what was right."

According to the Examiner, Mr. Heney's explanation of Boxn's extraordinary revelation was to charge Hugh M. Owens, torney for the boodling Supervisors in their dicker with the District ttorney's office, of betraying the confidence of his clients. Owens, will be remembered, charged Langdon and Heney with breaking th with his clients. He declared the boodlers had been promised ntion of their official positions as well as immunity from prosecution. Mr. Heney is quoted by the Examiner as follows:

"It is Owens that Boxton should be angry with—not with me," ped out the great prosecutor. "Owens has been selling his secrets o the newspapers. It was Owens who gave the papers that imunity contract. I suppose he got $500 for it. If the defense knew ything about Burns' advice to Boxton, they got it from Owens. suppose Burns advised him to deny that he received the money m Roy, and he may even have told him to make an affidavit to that ffect. But it was not a denial or an affidavit to be used in these rosecutions. It was merely to keep the newspapers from getting he story prematurely and spoiling everything. That's all there was to that."

It is to be noted that Mr. Heney did not deny him of Burns' dvice to commit perjury. He did not attempt to discredit any of Boxton's statements, not even the allegation that Boxton had ade that Burns did advise the commission of perjury. The hole matter is peculiar in all its phases and aspects.

Trapping a band of thieves and compounding their felonies in rder to make them witnesses against men interested in large nancial enterprises has been excused on the ground of purity of otive, but how is the advice to commit perjury to be excused? Burns' agents in disguise have been questioning and badgering alesmen as fast as they are summoned to appear in court, the purose being to get admissions to be used as a guide for the prosecution in accepting or rejecting jurors. That has also been excused on the score of pure motive. The advice to commit perjury is somewhat different. A thief is usually a liar, but the prosecution has contended that the scoundrels whose felonies it has compounded are entirely worthy of credence. But if they have been advised by the secret service agent of the prosecution to perjure themselves, what then? Where is the pure motive?

Well, what next?

It was supposed that the yellow fever scourge had been wiped out in Cuba by the drastic sanitary measures introduced there by the United States during the temporary control of the island by Federal troops, but the reappearance of the dreaded disease at Cienfuegos in a restricted form indicates positively that a recrudescence of the plague depends entirely upon the exercise on the part of the Cuban authorities of eternal vigilance in the enforcement of sanitary precautionary measures.

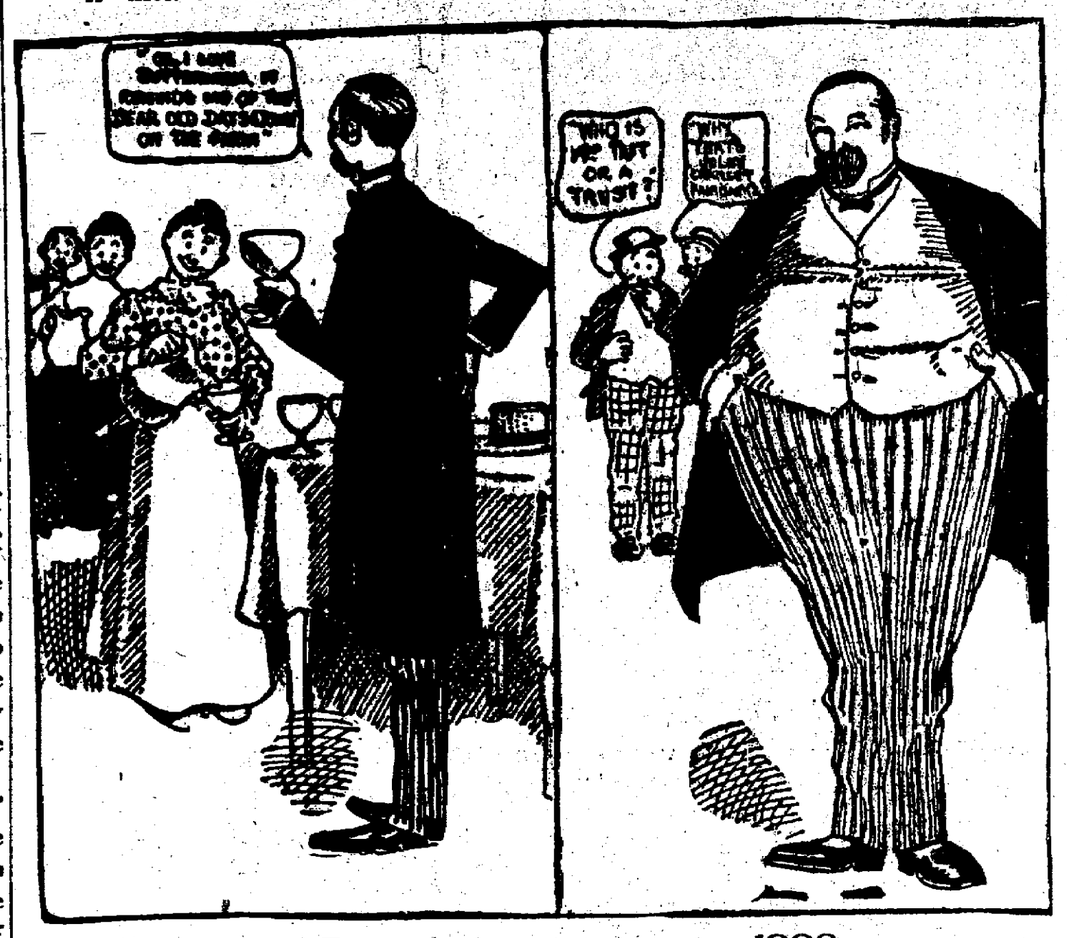

Judge Sweeney's Appointment.

Judge Edward Sweeney of Redding has been jointly recommended by Senators Perkins and Flint for appointment to the position of Superintendent of the Mint at San Francisco to succeed Frank A. Leach, who was recently promoted to the Directorship of the United States Mints. No more fitting selection for the office could have been made, and it is understood that the appointment will follow on or about the first of September.

Judge Sweeney is one of the best known and most influential and highly respected stalwart Republicans in the northern part of the State. While not a politician in the ordinary acceptance of the word, he has been an active worker for Republican principles and a strong opponent to all party abuses. The high esteem in which he is held in Shasta county, irrespective of party affiliations, is demonstrated by the fact that he served three terms as district attorney and two terms as Superior Judge. Indeed, he could have continued indefinitely on the bench, if he had so desired, so strong is his popularity in his home county, but he grew weary of the position and resumed the practice of his profession at the bar. He was Presidential elector in 1904. The affairs of the mint will be administered by him, it is quite safe to say, with the same ability and strict fidelity to the trust reposed in him as has marked his conduct of every public position which he has hitherto occupied.

San Diego is pluming itself over the prospects this year of having $2,250,000 worth of building improvements, if the record of the first seven months is kept up. That constitutes only about one-quarter of the value of building improvements that are in progress in Oakland, and now that new construction has started up again the cities of different promises to be much larger before the present year is out.

Dropping Taylor.

The San Francisco primaries are over and the next move is under discussion. It was claimed before the vote was cast that the purpose of the reform movement was to avoid experiments and continue the city government on the lines laid down by the dog whip when Dr. Taylor was elected mayor. Now the leaders of the reform, actuated by the swingers of the dog whip, snub Taylor and propose the nomination of young Mr. Ryan. This means confusion again. What has Taylor done that he is dropped before his title to the office is judicially confirmed? What are the ulterior purposes behind all this intrigue? The reformers went in with the cry, "Down with the railroads!" and they come out crying, "Down with Taylor!" The situation destroys all of Taylor's usefulness, and leaves the city drifting till next January. How many more moves must be made before the manipulators get things fixed to suit them?

Britain's Regal Peacemaker.

King Edward of England is unquestionably the most enlightened monarch and the most sagacious public representative of the times in Europe. And as such he is the greatest of European agencies for the maintenance of peace, totally eclipsing The Hague peace convention which is devoting its energies more toward minimizing the horrors of war than toward the suppression of international conflict.

King Edward will undoubtedly go down in history as the greatest patron of peace of his times and the most peacefully disposed monarch in the annals of his country. Britain has never had a more tactful ruler. He made a friend of the French republic at a time when it had entered into a hostile alliance with Russia against his country and when the war clouds were gathering on the political horizon and threatening the peace of all Europe. He has brought about an understanding with the Muscovite government which harmonizes the relations of the two nations over the frictional question of the Far East and that question of the nearer East which has been a source of irritation and constant clashing of national interests between the two peoples for over half a century. His wise counsels have been the means of cementing the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race in indissoluble bonds of amity and co-operation for the benefit of civilized mankind all over the earth, and he is now burying all his personal differences with his erratic nephew, the Emperor of Germany, and paving the way to abolish the bitterness which has been accumulating for years past between Germany and Britain, which at one time not far removed from the present threatened to involve the two nations in a bloody conflict, and relieve the former from the isolation into which the Kaiser's foreign policy had carried it.

Meantime, Edward has not neglected his own realm. Through his influence the hatred of a century which had been cherished in Ireland against English domination and which had reached a point where the flame of revolution was ready to burst forth, has been eradicated and an era of prosperity, the like of which it never knew before, inaugurated for the benefit of its people. There can be scarcely a doubt in the minds of any one who has watched the course of the reign of Edward VII and studied his political methods but what he will find a way to allay the prevailing discontent in India without humbling the native pride or sacrificing any imperial interest, for his personal popularity has been long established among the more influential Mahrajahs and among the tribes which they nominally rule.

The invasion of Brazil by Japanese coolie labor is something that California can regard with perfect equanimity. It is none of our concern what any other country may adopt as its foreign immigration policy so long as it does not militate against our own interests. Brazil is not, in any sense, a competitor of either California or the United States, as its chief industry is coffee-growing, which is not one of the established industries of this nation and, so far as present prospects indicate, not likely to be one.

The special edition of the Vallejo Evening Chronicle, giving a review of the industries and resources of Solano county, is a creditable display of enterprise. Vallejo is a live town and the Chronicle is a live paper. They go well together. In the words of Rip Van Winkle, "May they both live long and prosper."

REAL LEMON Is Handed Out by Gay Women To This Gay and Festive ENGLISH MASHER

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Passengers on the Carmania, from Liverpool the other day, took great delight in telling about the impressive manner in which the "lemon" treatment had been administered to an English chappie who had made himself extremely obnoxious to most of the good-looking women on board. The presentation took place on the main deck on Tuesday afternoon.

The fact that a woman happened to be with her husband made no difference to the British masher. He simply threw the persuasion power of his glances on to the last notch. It was no wonder that on the second day out several angry husbands assembled in the cafe and held a council of war.

MATRON'S PLAN.

"Leave him to me," said Mrs. H. O. Jackson, the wife of a prominent inventor of Norfolk, Va., when she heard of the husbands' meeting. I'll teach him a lesson he won't forget in a hurry."

Unaware of the manner in which sentiment against him was crystallizing, the self-satisfied tourist stuck valiantly to his task of winning smiles. Every time he appeared on deck he was draped in a sartorial sensation, his taste in hosiery running to pigeon blue and elephant's breath.

"Be on the main deck this afternoon," whispered Mrs. Jackson to all the folks Tuesday morning. They were all there, and presently they saw Mrs. Jackson and a woman friend doing a little road work. When the masher made his appearance Mrs. Jackson tosse.. him a shy ..ttle glance. That settled it. He fell in behind, and to his great satisfaction the women seemed to be greatly excited over his attentions.

CROWD ENJOYED IT.

Mrs. Jackson waited until they reached a point where the interested spectators could see them. Then she turned and held her hand toward him in a friendly manner. He reached for it and when he drew back his palm clutched an overgrown lemon.

The laughter that followed rocked the boat. The men hooted and the men shouted: "Make mine a lemonade, Mr. Bartender." The Englishman, in utter confusion, stumbled to his room and remained there until long after the other passengers disembarked.

Prize for the Girls Who Can Wade the Deepest Without Wetting Skirts.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 16.—The Republican League is being attacked from all sides because it has arranged odd contests for women at its picnic, to be held on August 24. There are beauty competitions, including beautiful forearm match and the wading race, the latter coming in for most of the complaint.

Churchmen, club women, religious societies and other bodies have criticised the program, especially the wading contest. It is to be held in an improvised pool of clear water.

The farther from the bank a contest wades the deeper the water. The prize goes to the contestant who wades farthest without wetting her skirts.

The league gave a picnic last year that was attended by 20,000 persons, and with the added interest which the wading contests will arouse it is expected fully 50,000 will be on hand this year.

IS A WOMAN'S SPHERE HOME OR A CAREER?

Charles M. Schwab, a Millionaire, Says:

Put girls in the kitchen. Teach them housewifery. Take women out of shops, stores, business offices; out of studios, colleges, laboratories and music schools. Let them work as domestic servants.

There is no field that offers better opportunities of success for women than that of domestic service.

It is five hundred times more important that a girl be taught to cook and mend and wash dishes and darn socks than that she study Greek, Latin, literature and music.

If women only realized it, such accomplishments do not win the admiration of man—men don't like brilliant women—clever girls—girls who are ambitious for worldly success.

The way to win a man is to know how to cook three square meals a day for him and make his home a haven of rest.

Which One Do You Think Is Right?

THE TRIBUNE is going to leave this question with the women readers of this woman's page.

Send in your opinion. A $20 gold piece will be given for the best letter on the subject.

CONDITIONS.

All that you have to do is to sign your letters with your full name and address. The offer begins today and continues each day until Sunday, September 15.

WRITE CLEARLY ON ONE SIDE OF THE PAPER AND LIMIT LETTERS TO 100 WORDS.

Address Woman's Page Editor, THE TRIBUNE, Oakland.

The offer is open to every maid or matron who reads THE TRIBUNE.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish Society Leader Says:

I certainly disagree most emphatically with Mr. Schwab. It is my belief that nature intended woman to be man's equal.

To say that women have no place in business or the professions, or to say that they should abandon every ambition except that of becoming wives and housekeepers implies that the feminine brain is inferior to the masculine. I shall never admit that, for I do not believe it.

It is all a mistake—the tradition that keeps woman down and insists she is able to fill only one place, that of the domestic, the housekeeper. It is a great mistake to insist that marriage is the end and aim of existence. For centuries women have been taught that the great ambition of life was to marry and settle down.

That is all wrong. A girl should be taught first to develop the best in herself—her mind. No woman should be ashamed to be called an old maid. Far better be an old maid than marry a man who is not one's equal, one who is not companionable.

MORE DATA ABOUT THE SOUL KISS

You Experience a Billowy Ecstasy---a Sort of Manifestation Psychic.

New Priestess Calls the Old-Fashioned Front-Piazza Kiss a Sense Kiss, and to the Soul-Kiss It's to Be Compared Only as the Very Merest Zephyr—In Fact It's Absolutely Impossible.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—A woman who calls herself Vesta la Viesta and who has established a studio here to exploit "the soul kiss," was interviewed today by a young woman reporter. The young woman gives the following account of her visit to the seeress:

"'Would you mind coming back in fifteen minutes?' said Vesta la Viesta. 'At present I am giving a lesson to a gentleman.'

"Through the studio door on Broadway arcade, propped decorously ajar, I observed a stiff-jointed young man of 30 or so seated on the edge of his chair, much interest and some alarm written on his candid countenance. From his appearance I decided 'the soul kiss' must be decidedly less lurid and disturbing than the common or piazza variety known to Vesta la Viesta as 'the sense kiss.' But when I returned later the seeress assured me this was far from being the case.

ORDINARY KISS NOTHING LIKE IT.

"'Compared with ecstasy of the soul kiss,' she declared emphatically, 'the sense kiss is the merest zephyr. The sense kiss is not satisfying. There is something wanting in it. But when I exchange soul kisses with my affinity in the planet Neptune I close the doors, throw myself on a couch, my soul goes out from my body to meet him, I experience a billowy ecstasy.'

"Here Vesta la Viesta, who is billowy, at least, threw up her plump arms, shut her eyes, and executed a sort of psychic hoochee-coochee.

"'That is the way I feel,' she concluded, dramatically.

"'And I understand you have classes in which you teach the soul kiss?'

"'Yes,' replied the seeress. 'The complete course of instruction is $300.'

"'You teach both men and women?'

"'Oh, yes; there are both in my class,' she replied. 'A seeress recognizes no sex. She is both man and woman herself.'

"'Then you claim to be Mahatma?'

"'In India I might be called Mahatma,' she replied, 'but as we are in America, I call myself by my soul name, Vesta la Viesta.'

ONLY RIPENED SOULS NEED TRY IT.

"'How do you teach this soul kiss?' I ventured. 'How long does it take to learn?'

"'The soul kiss,' Vesta la Viesta expounded, 'must be exchanged by two ripened souls. My course of metaphysics ripens the soul. The seat of the soul is in the solar plexus.'

"'Then,' I remarked, 'if Corbett had had a ripened soul, Fitzsimmons' solar plexus blow would not have knocked him out?'

"'It would not,' replied Vesta.

"'And psychic exercises for the development of the solar plexus should be part of every prizefighter's training?'

"'They might do him good,' the seeress answered, 'but the soul kiss is not for such unripened souls so much as for artists, writers, and musicians who feel the need of it. Musicians especially need the soul kiss. It gives life and "zip" to their work.'

"'Is there such a thing as an overripe soul?' I asked.

"'The ripened soul,' said the seeress, ignoring my flippant inquiry, 'triumphs over age. I have passed the half-mile stone of life, yet I don't look it. When I am animated I look like a girl of 20; I have a radiance no young woman can ever possess. Young women are like unripened fruit,' she added."

Grass Widow at 15; Is Youngest Divorcee

BALTIMORE, Aug. 16.—So far as the memory of the oldest clerk in the Circuit Court goes, Mrs. Lillian K. Miller is the youngest divorcee on record.

The young woman, now not quite 17 years old, had been a grass widow since her marriage two years ago.

"I was then not 15 years old," said Mrs. Miller to the judge. "My father, George Salisbury, having learned that Charles Miller had taken advantage of my youth, had a talk with him. He readily agreed to marry me, and the wedding took place on August 10, 1905. A few minutes after the ceremony Miller left me, and he has since then refused even to speak to me."

No defense was made to the suit.

Some Dislike Crackers In Bed This Man Cats

WAUKESHA, Wis., Aug. 16.—A cat, the pet of the plaintiff, today brought the brief matrimonial career of Theresa and Gottlieb Herring to a close when Mrs. Herring was granted a divorce and $125 alimony. Theresa insisted on having the feline share her bed, but Gottlieb objected to its crawling over his face at night.

WOMAN POUNDS AN ANVIL YET KEEPS UP IN SOCIETY

She Started Blacksmithing for Her Health

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio, Aug. 16.—Mrs. William Sheffield of Deshler, Ohio, claims the distinction of being the only practical woman blacksmith and woodworker in the State.

Any day in the week passersby can hear the ring of the anvil as she smites it with might and main. She works with her husband, and she is said to be as good at the business as he is.

IMPROVES HER HEALTH.

Mrs. Sheffield was married to Mr. Sheffield in 1896 and being ill and lonely much of the time she visited her husband in the shop, which adjoined their home. She helped him at little things, just to pass away the time, and her health was so much better that she kept at it and quickly picked up the trade. She seemed to be a natural mechanic and later took up woodworking, turning out wagons and whatever else came into the shop for repair with as much skill as "Bill" Sheffield, who is known far and wide for his skill. Being a lover of horses, she also took up horseshoeing and is now an expert.

She can swing a sledge as well as any man and works daily with Mr. Sheffield at the forge.

ATTENDS SOCIETY'S FUNCTIONS.

When Mrs. Sheffield began work in the shop she was a slight woman, but she now weighs 175 pounds, with not an ounce of superfluous flesh. She is perfectly well and besides working in the shop long hours she finds time to do her housework. She is a member of the Maccabee lodge of ladies and is a leader in social functions in Deshler. She is 38 years of age and believes that 90 per cent of the ills of women are due to lack of healthy exercise. She recommends blacksmithing to those who are weak

NEWPORT DIARY

Busy Days in the Chic Set---Ironical but Newsy

MONDAY.—Mrs. Trout gave a dinner last night about which all the crowd is talking. It was a fish dinner, and the guests wore bathing suits and swam around the swimming pool, seizing the food off the steps as they passed. Must do something to offset this.

TUESDAY.—Gave a bird dinner yesterday. All the guests perched on the backs of their chairs. Algy Hascoin fell over and cracked his skull worse than before. Swedish prince coming here next week. Have John at work in Washington to get him for an informal party. Promised from Oyster Bay that the prince chap will not be allowed to visit any house allied with the practical man of Wall street.

WEDNESDAY.—Went yachting today. Very pretty sight; all the yachts with their sails, or whatever they are, moving along. Quite reluctant to leave the veranda. Engaged Consul, the trained monkey, for a dinner party. Great success. Dr. Niefelkraut, the German scientist—a bore, but then everybody asks him—made every one laugh. He took Algy for Consul, and complained that he wasn't nearly so well trained as he had been led to expect. Algy quite complimented, as he said breeding was quite out of date.

THURSDAY.—After ordering 10,000 roses at $2.50 each for my dance, I found a place where one more could have been put. Exceedingly annoying. Dismissed my secretary. She made quite a scene, saying her sister or some one was starving, and that I hadn't paid her last month's salary. Told her it was her own fault—that she probably stole more than that anyway, and that a check in full would be mailed to her next month in due course. She flared up and cried again, and I was quite relieved when I had her put out.

FRIDAY.—Swedish prince is coming to us for luncheon. I thought I could foil some of the stuck-ups. While opposed to a republican form of government, I think this Rosefelt—or is it Roosfelt?—does the best he can in the sad absence of a monarchical spirit among the masses, who have, unfortunately, a voice in this government.

SATURDAY.—Mrs. Trout has got the prince after all. I am too prostrated to write.

SUNDAY.—Rained so hard there was nothing to do but church.

WIVES TAKE NOTICE: THIS SCIENTIST SAYS THAT BAD COOKING CAUSES 90 PER CENT OF CRIME

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 16.—"Ninety per cent of the crimes of the United States are due to bad cooking," declared Dr. C. H. Irion, State Health Officer, in a lecture before the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church.

"Proper food," he said, "is needed by the human body in developing the brain. A well-fed man or animal is generally happy and is not given to criminal tendencies.

"Every woman before she contracts an alliance should be asked if she understands how to feed children. Half-decayed fruit is the curse of the infant and the alarming mortality can be traced to this cause."

"A fly walking across a can of milk," said Dr. Irion, "can do more harm than a buzzard trampling over food on a dinner table."

Andante Con Moto

Across the qiet air there flows a tide
Of homing pigeons; soft
They settle on the carven cornices,
And dip, and coo, and take the sun
That lies in shining ripples on their necks
And gilds their breasts.
The old gray church has set,
To front the west,
A dome of tremulous amber,
Full of light;
The belfry frames a little colored cloud.
The strong sun, low and lower,
Grows reminiscent ere he vanishes.
Beyond the other towers
The evening star emerges luminous—
And the sky dims, recedes, and grows more vast.
The pigeons are asleep.
The church is veiled
In filmy dusk—and in the darkening city
Lights begin.
So tired I am—and how the night
Comes surely—softly!
It will be good to sleep.

Mobbed When He Tried To Start Garden of Eden

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 16.—Five hundred people living near Jerome Park today chased William Anderson, aged 29, when it was learned he had been paying little girls to pose as water nymphs in the swimming pool at the park.

Men, women, and boys joined in the pursuit of Anderson, who would have been roughly handled had he not taken refuge in a saloon, where he was rescued by Policeman Snyder.

The girls told their parents Anderson had given 50 cents to each to dance in the pool. The girls ranged from 10 to 15 years in age.

SWAP WIVES LAWFULLY AND ALL ARE SATISFIED

OMAHA, Aug. 16.—Abraham N. Endler and Edward D. Winspear, two former Sweetwater county stockmen, have contrived in a lawful way to trade wives. According to advices just received here from Vermillion they recently applied for and obtained decrees of divorce, and a few days ago at a double wedding, celebrated in Arizona, each took to wife the woman the other had divorced.

The two men and their wives had been friends and intimates for years, but to make their homes.

In the case of each couple there had been a misalliance. Endler and Mrs. Winspear were in love with each other, and so were Winspear and the Endler woman.

With no ill feeling on the part of any of them, they agreed that it would be best for the two men to trade wives, and accordingly the husbands went to South Dakota and procured divorces, in order that the trade might be effected.

The wives permitted the divorces to be obtained without contest. The couples have gone to Western Canada together

Just a Plain Woman

She need not appear plain.
She has at least one good point.
She may assume a number of others.
She should experiment with her hair.
She must study her coiffure from all all points.
Badly arranged hair may greatly exaggerate a defect.
Well-arranged hair may balance and annul a defect.
The choice of a hat has the same good or bad effect.
A woman should beware of choosing a too pretty chapeau.
It is the same with a dress or anything else.
Rose pink or dead white, for instance, will emphasize a sallow complexion
On the other hand, a cranberry or a flame red, or a sunset shade, may mak a sallow sister radiant.
Colors which bring out her own color are the things to choose when possib rather than those which kill it.
A trim figure goes a long way, and a good carriage, a good corset and well fitting clothes do the rest.

LIVE MARMOSET ON MY LADY'S SHOULDER NOW FAD

Though it may be considered very bad form to "wear a chip on one's shoulder," there is very good precedent for wearing a chipmunk on that part of one's anatomy. Not long ago a Parisienne of noble birth surprised even blase French society by receiving one afternoon in a beautiful yellow gown, the finishing touch to which was furnished by a very plump and very black cat of undoubted vitality, which remained sitting on her shoulder throughout the reception.

Now from "dear old Lunnun" comes the rumor that at a recent "at home" a pretty little woman in a gauzy pink dress and a large white picture hat moved about the rooms with a tiny marmoset clinging to her shoulder. This uncanny little animal with its hair brushed back from its forehead after the manner of Liszt and Wagner, is described as looking like a saddened, weary old man, who gazed cynically upon an entertainment which failed to entertain.

HER BRAIN ASLEEP FOR 12 YEARS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 16.—Twelve-year-old Genevieve Beelman, who since birth had never been able to speak and whose brain was "asleep," the doctors say, has been cured. She would sit quietly for hours, just looking and knocking her folded hands. Her parents had to feed her at table, the girl apparently not knowing the necessity of food. Finally her parents brought her to Dr. William L. Rosenberg.

"I worked seven hours a day with the child when she first came to me," said Dr. Rosenberg. "For instance, I would show her how to make the letter E and then ask her if she could do it. She would nod and stand at the blackboard a half hour? trying to recall a single stroke." Now the little girl writes easily, read fluently and talks well.

"I am going home," said Genevieve, joyfully, "because I can go to school in September like other girls."

A THOUGHT FOR THE DAY.

Evil swells the debts to pay,
Good delivers and acquits;
Shun evil, follow good; hold sway
Over thyself. That is the way.
—Edwin Arnold.

Ta! Ta! Little Curl; Hail, Coronet Brai

No more will the little curls of the ste kind figure among the articles lost in th subway and which are handed out by th lost property clerk with an air as if h thought, "You certainly are shameless t claim that thing." Little curls are ou of fashion, says an authority on hair dressing, and every woman in Paris wh keeps up with the styles is wearing he hair in a coronet braid again. Of course in most cases this braid is an added on and the hairdresser will expect ever fashionable woman to do her duty b making herself lovely with an artificial coronet.

TO CUT SEWERS OF OUTSIDERS

Council Orders Claremont District's Use of City's Drainage System Stopped.

The outside property-owners in Claremont district whose sewer connections with city sewers in Fifty-ninth and other streets were ordered cut off some time ago, and who were given a hearing at which Charles Butters proposed to raise a fund to pay for sewer connecting privileges, did not appear before the street committee last night.

"I don't see why we should wait longer on those people," said Councilman Ellsworth.

"Enforce the order to cut them off," suggested Burns.

"Cut off at Harwood avenue and Gloria street, too," said Everhart.

The committee decided to have prompt and drastic action taken by the proper subordinates of the city.

PROPOSED LAW TOO SEVERE

Council Orders City Attorney to Modify Laundry Ordinance Under Consideration.

The proposed ordinance requiring that no laundry, machine shop, blacksmith shop, horse-shoeing shop, planning mill, livery stable or carpenter shop, shall be conducted within the city limits unless all portions of the building are at least fifty feet from the boundary line of the land on which the building is constructed, unless the building is constructed of reinforced concrete, or of steel or stone or some other fire-proof material, was referred by the ordinance committee to the city attorney last evening, for revision.

Attorneys Herman Walker and Harry Pulcifer appeared before the committee to represent the property-owners in the neighborhood of Forty-first and Montgomery streets who are protesting against the proposed establishment of a laundry in that district. Two weeks ago the proprietor of Madam Coyne's French laundry, who is the owner of the property on which he proposes to put a steam laundry, was at the meeting of the committee, and announced that, in deference to the attitude of the other residents of the district he was willing to sell his lot for a fair price and move elsewhere.

ASKS TEN THOUSAND.

Attorney Walker declared that when the adjoining property owners asked him to name a price on his lot, he demanded $10,000, while the market value is not above $5000. Several estimates from real estate men were read before the council, and the average valuation placed was $5000.

Councilman Burns objected to the ordinance in its present form on the ground that it is too broad in its provisions and might interfere with small laundrymen who were not violating the spirit which actuated the formation of the ordinance.

Councilman Ellsworth said that the purpose of the council in adopting such an ordinance would be to keep objectionable business out of residence districts and he moved that the city attorney be requested to draft a new ordinance which should embody the main features of the old ordinance without being too drastic.

The motion was adopted and the city attorney was instructed to prepare a new ordinance which will protect property owners in residence districts against objectionable invasions.

ROBINSON CRUSOE'S GUN IN PHILADELPHIA HOME

Woman Guards Relic From Selkirk Family Descendants, Who Exhaust Every Means to Procure It.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—Robinson Crusoe's gun, the identical weapon that was the mainstay of that lonely sailor during his castaway life on Crusoe Island, is here in Philadelphia, the jealously guarded property of Miss Hulda B. White, of 201 North Thirty-fourth street.

The recent discovery of that fact is causing the wealthy descendants of Alexander Selkirk, whose adventures were the basis of Daniel De Foe's famous story, no little uneasiness.

British magazines, since the relic has been traced to America, have printed several articles, in which it is described as "rusting, uncared for and alone in the attic of some unappreciative Yankee," and many overtures have been made to its present owner to purchase it, the price offered being much higher than that originally paid for the ancient firearm.

Instead of the attic troubling the Selkirk relatives, the gun occupies a place of honor in the beautiful home of one of West Philadelphia's wealthy women, and the papers, showing the authenticity of its pedigree, are locked up carefully in the vaults of a local trust company.

HOW SHE GOT THE GUN.

Miss White has had the gun for more than thirty years. The story of her ownership is unique, and gives the relic, in her eyes at least, an added value.

Forty years ago a distant cousin left Philadelphia for a tour of England and Scotland. Knowing Miss White's penchant for collecting old things, he kept his eyes open for odd bits, and many a piece in Miss White's large collection came from him. While in Largo, the old-fashioned Fifeshire town in which Alexander Selkirk was born, he noticed in passing by a cottage that a public sale was in progress—some one was being dispossessed for non-payment of rent. He went in, and when the old gun was offered, together with the papers proving its identity, became an excited bidder, finally carrying it away with him, after having paid $160 to the auctioneer.

Several hours later a messenger came to the hotel where he was staying with a letter. The communication was from the auctioneer, who wrote that a wealthy relative of the Selkirk family had authorized him to offer the purchaser of the gun $320, double the price paid.

JUST MISSED GIVING IT UP.

Loath to take the heirloom from the family that was evidently so highly prized, he said that if the would-be purchaser would meet him at the dock the next day he would give up the gun. The Selkirk representative did not turn up, and the gun sailed for America to be presented to its present owner.

In the last few years Miss White has had letter after letter from England, some of them offering her goodly sums for her prize.

Intrinsically the gun is not worth 50 cents. It is of a pattern invented in the year 1676, a flrelock.

In the days when such weapons were used the gun was loaded almost to the muzzle with powder, with a little placed in a flash pan near the hammer. When the hammer descended it struck a piece of flint, ignited the powder in the pan and the weapon was discharged.

FLAGS TRAIN; SAVES WRECK

Quick Wit of Railway Conductor Prevents Berkeley Local From Smash-Up.

BERKELEY, Aug. 16.—The quick wit and action of Moses Morris, a veteran conductor of the Southern Pacific railroad, saved from possible destruction Wednesday night a train load of passengers, as they neared the depot at Shattuck avenue and Center street.

A wagon load of bricks lay on the crossing, and a train was just about to dash into the obstruction when Morris, who was off duty, snatched a red flag from the slowly moving flagman, dashed down the track and stopped the northbound local before it could crash into the bricks on the crossing. Had not Morris grasped the situation and acted instantly, the engine would undoubtedly have been derailed and many persons injured.

The obstruction on the Southern Pacific track came there through the accidental opening of a patent wagon loaded with bricks. The wagon was being driven over the tracks when the train was but a few blocks away.

GOVERNMENT CLERK IS ARRESTED FOR EMBEZZLING

The money was taken from a package containing $105,000 in bills prepared for shipment to Washington to be retired from circulation and the shortage was made good by another clerk technically responsible, but who at no time was under suspicion.

NEW TOWN HALL TO BE ON STRAWBERRY CREEK

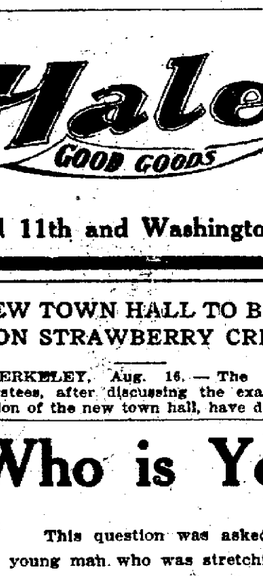

BERKELEY, Aug. 16.—The Town Trustees, after discussing the exact location of the new town hall, have decided that the building should be placed over Strawberry Creek, near the site of the old town hall.

The former town hall, which burned down in October, 1905, was located at the corner of Allston Way and Grove streets, but the new one is to take better advantage of the size of the lot. It will be taken from 80 to 100 feet distant from Allston Way and 75 feet from Grove street. In order to place it over Strawberry Creek there will have to be some alteration in the plan of the culvert that is to be put in, and the superintendent of streets and town engineer have been ordered to see the culvert contractor and plan the necessary changes.

17 HOTELS BURN---GUESTS SHIVER ON THE BEACH

TRIES TO CUT OUT BRAINS WITH HATCHET

Seeks Death Because He Can't Support Sick Wife

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Despondent because he could no longer earn sufficient money to support his invalid wife, and disheartened because he was beginning to lose his sight, Patrick Redmond of 419 First avenue attempted to commit suicide at an early hour this morning, by hacking at his skull with a hatchet.

Neighbors heard a woman's cries from the direction of the Redmond home about 4 o'clock this morning, and on going to the house, were unable to get in. They hammered on the door for some time; but although the cries increased, they could not gain admittance. They broke in the door, and running through the house to the kitchen, found Redmond lying on the floor, bleeding profusely, and with a bloody hatchet in his outstretched hand.

His wife was sitting by his side in uncontrollable grief. The neighbors were sure that the man had wounded himself dangerously and a hurry call was sent in for the Park ambuance. When the man was received at the hospital it was found that he had twelve lacerated wounds of the scalp, but as the hatchet was extremely dull, none of them penetrated the skull, and he will recover.

Redmond, who is 69 years old, was for twenty years superintendent of the stables of the Sutter-street railroad company. With the discontinuance of the horse car extension of the Sutter street line at the time of the earthquake, Redmond lost his position, and since then has been working at odd jobs.

His eyes are in a very bad condition, and he is in immediate danger of losing his sight completely. The family are in a pitiful condition as they have absolutely no means of support. The Associated Charities will be asked to investigate the case.

HAD NOTHING TO LIVE FOR WITH ONE LEG AMPUTATED

William Rudolph Takes Last Look at the Stump, Rolls Over on Pillow and Breathes His Last.

WEST OAKLAND, Aug. 16.—Not until their brother had been buried in the potters' field at Redding and the news of his death been published in the newspapers about the bay, did Deputy County Clerk L. A. Rudolph and A. N. Rudolph of 1751 Fifth street hear of the death of William Rudolph, who died Sunday morning in a Redding hospital after his left leg had been taken off at the thigh by a railroad accident in front of the depot at Redding. Upon learning of the affair, A. N. Rudolph went to Redding Monday and found that his brother had refused to tell anything of his relatives and died without any request about the disposition of his remains. The brother had the body exhumed from the potter's field and reburied in the Masonic cemetery. After a year the body will be brought to Oakland.

When William Rudolph was run over he was taken to the hospital, where three doctors worked on him. Sunday morning the nurse told him his leg was gone. Rudolph wanted to see the stump of the limb and expressed a desire to die. He said he had nothing to live for without two legs, and then he rolled over on the pillow and breathed his last. He was an engineer and had been working in the mines of Shasta county since leaving Oakland some time ago.

SWARMS SEEK VACANT JOB

With Eshleman Out of Their Way Many Lawyers Would Like Deputyship.

Attorney John M. Eshleman will not accept the deputyship held for him on the staff of District Attorney Everett J. Brown, owing to the fact that he has been elected District Attorney of Imperial County, a portion of San Diego County which was recently set aside as a separate county. This announcement was made this morning by Brown, who has been holding the position open for the young Berkeleyan for a long time. Brown says that Eshleman was not going to enter his office as deputy until 1908; but at the same time he was ready to be sworn in at any time it was so desired.

Eshleman took up his residence in the southern county, principally for the betterment of his health, which broke down during the last session of the State Legislature. At that time he had to leave Sacramento and take a rest in his home in the college town. The young Assemblyman was a leader in the last Legislature against race track gambling.

Just who will be named to fill the vacant position in the prosecuting attorney's office Brown cannot now state. He says he has been "swarmed" by the greater part of the young attorneys with political ambitions in Alameda County. Brown regrets further publicity of Eshleman's refusal to take the office for fear that another score or two of lawyers will be seeking the appointment.

"There are so many after the job and such a fine array of legal talent offered me that I am quite undecided who will be appointed," said Brown.

TWO KILLED AND FIVE HURT IN $800,000 FIRE

Summer Season Brought to Abrupt Close by Destruction of Hostelries and Sixty Cottages at Resort.

OLD ORCHARD, Maine, Aug. 16.—Two lives were lost and five persons were injured, three seriously, as a result of the fire which swept through this sea shore resort last night, causing a loss of from a half to three quarters of a million dollars.

The dead:

PHILIP PARTRIDGE, twenty-four years old, of Pittsburg, struck by train en route to fire.

Unidentified man, killed by explosion of soda tank; head blown off.

The injured:

REV. RUFUS H. JONES, Saco, Maine.

MELVIN T. MORRILL, Salem, Mass.

Unidentified man, unconscious, and Samuel Emerson of Old Orchard all injured by tank explosion as result of fire.

SEVENTEEN HOTELS BURN.

Seventeen summer hotels, sixty cottages and a score of buildings occupied by stores were destroyed. It is believed that the fire started from an overturned lamp in the annex of the Hotel Olympia. The insurance will not exceed $100,000.

The resort season is abruptly closed as only one large hotel, the Old Orchard, remains. All trains, including several extras, were packed today with persons leaving the shore.

The burned area etxends between the railroad and the ocean for nearly half a mile.

The people who were driven from the hotels were compelled to spend the night on the beach. Brush wood fires were kept around which the refugees sat in whispering groups. The loss is estimated at $800,000.

BIG WATER MAIN BURSTS WITH ROAR THAT FRIGHTENS SLEEPERS

Column of Water Shoots Sixty Feet Into the Air

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—With a roar that brought frightened sleepers from their beds for blocks around, a 36-inch water main in Chicago avenue burst early today, shooting a colmun of water sixty feet into the air, imperiling several lives and damaging property to the extent of several thousand dollars. The water broke through the brick pavement in front of the Stockholm Hotel, causing a panic among the 500 guests. A wagon-load of policemen rushed into the hotel and carried out the women and children.

The yards in that vicinity are four and five feet below the level of the street and it was only a few minutes until the water inundated them.

The water quickly flooded the basements for two blocks east and west, and a number of families had to be rescued by the police. Nine horses were drowned.

LOST $2000 AT RACES; HAD 80 CENTS IN BANK

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—C. H. Rehnstrom, the bankrupt Fillmore-street tailor, was up before Referee In Bankruptcy Milton S. Green yesterday on an order of examination obtained by his eastern creditors for the purpose of explaining his books, which no one who had inspected them could understand. It developed during the examination that Rehnstrom kept two accounts---one of his transactions on the racetrack, and the other of his business as a tailor. The stubs in his checkbook showed that he had drawn nearly $2000 from the bank, no record of which appeared in the cashbook. He testified that the money had been dropped on the track last May in an effort to recoup previous losses and so pay his creditors. The looseness of his accounts and business methods were illustrated by an entry of $55 cash received from W. H. Morrow, Circuit Judge Morrow's son, whereas he testified that he never received the money but made Morrow a present of a $55 suit for bringing custom to his shop. The $14,000 received from the sale of his wife's flats was all sent to her in Sweden, and when the referee took charge of the bankrupt's effects there was only 80 cents to his credit at the bank. With the exception of $3500 stock in trade, his assets consist of mining stocks of doubtful value. Most of the bankrupt's creditors are eastern firms.

Here is the roll of local debtors to Tailor Rehnstrom: Willie O'Connell, $327; Thomas McCaleb, $85; R. McK. Duperu, $27; Dr. Alexander Gaceau, $23; Dr. H. F. Wilson, $57; M. J. Laymance, $10; W. G. Richardson, $55; E. J. McCutchen, $55; Frank J. Maguire, $55; J. H. Rosller, $55; Dr. C. M. Cooper, $55; H. L. Smith, $85; Carl Westerfield, $57; J. Walter Scott, $15; Edwin Goodall, $57; M. Blaskower, $6; W. B. Stocker, $122; R. B. Lindsay, $229; H. L. Slosson Jr., $48; Robert Burgh, $75; H. W. Reddington, $22; S. A. Pardee, $60; L. A. Wright, $197; H. A. Wideman, $148; C. Tobey Jr., $116; J. A. Cunningham, $69; A. Goodall, $55.

ATTEMPTS TO ARREST TWO WOMEN, BUT IS HIMSELF SENT TO JAIL

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Walter C. Olsen, while endeavoring to place two women under arrest for disturbing the peace at 3:30 this morning, was himself arrested by Policeman J. P. Maloney on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Olsen was a passenger on one of the owl cars when the two women created a disturbance. He flashed a special policeman's star and attempted to place them under arrest. They appeared to Policeman Maloney and the latter questioned Olsen's authority. Olsen displayed his star, but the policeman refuseft to recognize it as it bore a number instead of a letter. All the stars given to special policemen in the city and county of San Francisco are alphabetically lettered, while those of regular police officers have regular numbers.

Olsen was taken to the city prison and booked on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. This morning Policeman Maloney reported the case to Chief Dinan and on his advice an additional charge of impersonating an officer was placed against the man.

STREET CARS RESUME SERVICE ON FOURTH STREET TO S. P. DEPOT

Post and Leavenworth Street Line Almost Ready

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—The United Railroads began running cars this morning on the line between Fourth and Market streets and the Southern Pacific depot. This line used to be run in connection with the Ellis street cars from the Southern Pacific depot to the ocean beach, but no cars have been operated by this route to the depot since the earthquake. General Manager Thornwell Mullally, when seen this morning, said:

"Today we are opening up the Fourth street line to the depot. Cars are being run on this route for the first time since the earthquake, and this fact alone gives the lie to alleged statements by union sympathizers to the effect that we are running less cars each day.

"The fact is, we are making some improvement in the service every day in the year, and we intend in the near future to restore the service to the same efficiency as it was before the earthquake.

"The Post and Leavenworth street line will begin running cars by the end of this week and we hope to operate the Sacramento street line from Fillmore street to the ferry by the 15th of September. This line, which passes the Fairmont Hotel, is much needed in the Nob Hill section, and will prove a great convenience to many of the residents."

C. SPRECELS RETURNS HOME

Millionaire Looks Younger Than He Did Before Journey to Europe.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Claus Spreckels arrived this morning from Europe and went to the old family home at 2027 Howard street, where he will remain until his Van Ness avenue mansion is rebuilt. The damage done by fire to the stone of the Van Ness avenue house was so great that all the work which has been done on the house so far has been confined to recutting blocks of stone to take the place of those chipped by the heat of the fire. Spreckels intends to refit the house on the same magnificent scale as before the fire.

WEARY FROM TRAVEL.

When the millionaire was seen this morning at his Howard street home he was extremely weary from traveling. His son, Rudolph Spreckels, was with him, looking after his father's comfort. Aside from the weariness brought on by travel, however, Spreckels is in a good state of health and as active as when he left here for Europe a year ago.

After the fire, when he was driven from the Van Ness avenue house, he crossed the bay to Oakland and spent the refugee days with James K. Moffitt, president of the First National Bank. Since then he has been away most of the time, but the constant traveling has not told on his vitality and he looks younger than in the days before the fire.

RENEW FIGHT ON JOHN D.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 16.—Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, chief counsel for the government in the litigation with the Standard Oil Company, will leave Monday or Tuesday for New York, where it is announced today the next step in litigation will be begun September 3. On the date named ex-Judge Franklin Ferris of St. Louis will begin taking testimony in the Standard Oil cases in New York.

"Will the Attorney General of the United States meet you in New York and assist you in the fight?" was asked.

"I don't know, he may possibly, but I cannot say definitely," answered Kellogg.

SUPT. JAMES PILLING HONORED BY ELKS

James Pilling, superintendent of Idora Park, is a very popular man with the Elks, both in Berkeley and Oakland. Last Wednesday evening Mr. Pilling was given the surprise of his life, when he was induced to attend the meeting of Berkeley lodge No. 102, B. P. O. E. Accompanied by Professor Steindorf, Ferris Hartman, Walter de Leon and other leading lights in the theatrical profession, Mr. Pilling went to the Berkeley lodge room for the purpose of having a pleasant evening but never expecting to get a surprise.

When the formal lodge proceedings were over Mr. Pilling was summoned to stand forth by R. S. Magill, who made a very pleasing address during which, on behalf of Berkeley lodge, he presented Superintendent Pilling with a gold Elks' head set with diamonds. It is a beautiful gift and is fully appreciated by the recipient.

Mr. Pilling had been courteous and generous to the Berkeley Elks when they had their two nights' benefit at Idora Park. The Berkeley lodge, therefore, paid him a deserved compliment.

FALLS THREE STORIES WITH FATAL RESULT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Ray Kelly, a structural ironworker, twenty-one years old, was fatally injured at 2 o'clock today by falling head first from the third story of the Crellin building on the corner of Mission and New Montgomery streets.

Kelly only went to work on the building yesterday morning and was engaged in joining together two pieces of corrugated iron, when in some unaccountable way he lost his balance and plunged head first to the basement below, suffering a fractured skull.

He was removed to the Central emergency hospital by Policeman E. McDonnell, and the doctors hold out no hope for his recovery.

WOULD RAISE DEBT AND BUILD CHURCH

The South Berkeley Christian Church petitioned the Superior Court this morning to be given permission to raise a mortgage on their property at Woolsey and Tremont streets, Berkeley, for $4000. Of this sum, $2000 will be used to pay off an existing mortgage and the balance for the erection of a new church.

Burros Eat Food of Noted Campers

BERKELEY, Aug. 16.—While three days from a base of supplies, burros from a neighboring camp ate the entire food supply of Professor Hugo K. Schilling, head of the German department of the State University, and State Treasurer Williams, who were camping recently in King's river canyon. Starvation stared them in the face until the owners of the destructive burros were prevailed upon to divide food with them.

Schilling and Williams got enough flour and bacon to get them out of the canyon, and their retreat was made hastily.

Prof. Schilling's first sad experience with the wild western burro came the day before the big feed. The University professor had cooked a fish chowder from fish he had caught and sat aside to await the completion of the rest of the meal. Both Williams and Schilling had mountain appetites and the chowder was the main dish of the meal and guaranteed by Cook Schilling to be something rare in the food line. At meal time as they turned to take up the chowder they saw the last of it disappear down a burro.

Prof. Schilling is said to be authority for the statement that one of the burros drank the vinegar off the pickles.

IS GLOATING OVER PICKPOCKET'S LOSS

ALAMEDA, Aug. 16.—A. G. Burns, a tea and coffee merchant on Park street, is congratulating himself over the outcome of an experience with a pickpocket in San Francisco on Thursday. VICIOUS CONVICT TRIES TO BREAK OUT OF PRISON

Most Abandoned Inmate of San Quentin Saws Steel Bars, Stabs Trusty and Battles With Guards.

Incorrigibly vicious and savage as he is known to be, Jake Oppenheimer, most abandoned of all the convicts in San Quentin, exceeded the boldest of his exploits within the penitentiary walls last Wednesday night. Under the very noses of two guards set specially to watch him, he sawed through thirteenth steel bars in his cell, escaped to the prison dining room, and there, running amuck in Berserk rage, fatally stabbed a trusty and was only recaptured after a furious fight.

Oppenheimer is the terror of the prison inmates. He seems to possess demoniac power to carry out his plans, once loose, is as much to be feared as a mad dog. For a long time he has been in solitary confinement in an incorrigible cell, whence he was allowed no communication with any one. This ward is high on the fifth floor of what was formerly the old sash and blind factory and is completely isolated from the rest of the prison. Nevertheless, Oppenheimer is considered such a resourceful and dangerous man that two guards were placed at the entrance of his cell and detailed to report upon his every action.

SAWS STEEL BARS.

How he procured a saw capable of cutting through the heavy steel bars which shut him in is a mystery which must be placed beside the plans for his many other abortive escapes. Such an implement he did obtain and with it he worked swiftly, silently and industriously. When the two guards were called away for a few minutes Oppenheimer took the oportunity to slip out, and when they returned they took up the watch quite unconscious that their quarry had disappeared.

Oppenheimer was first seen in the prison dining-room. He was intercepted by a trusty, whom he warned away. He was not obeyed quickly enough, so in a wild fury he leaped upon his victim and stabbed him eight times with the saw he still carried. The trusty is not expected to live.

The screams of the wounded man and the curses of Oppenheimer brought a number of scurrying guards, who closed in on the enraged convict. A doubtful struggle followed clear across the dining-room and into the corridor before Oppenheimer was overpowered and pinioned, exhausted but unbroken.

It is possible that this latest outbreak of the criminal will carry him to the gallows.

HAS CRIMSON RECORD.

Oppenheimer was first sent to Folsom under a life sentence for murder. He had not been there long before he quarreled with a fellow convict and slew him. He was such a firebrand among the prisoners that he was transferred to San Quentin. Here, in a desperate attempt to escape, he stabbed one guard almost to death and wounded Guard Sam Yoho, who finally succeeded in knocking him senseless with a heavy cane. Though he has been in solitary confinement ever since, he managed to stab a guard not many months ago.

ALL ENTHUSE OVER PLANS TO BENEFIT THEIR TOWN

Alamedans Welcome Mayor and Trustees

ALAMEDA, Aug. 16.—Good cheer marked the session of the Alameda Improvement Club last evening. The meeting was held in honor of Mayor Taylor and the Councilmen, five of whom were present, in order that ideas might be exchanged and a closer co-operation secured. The headquarters of the club were tastefully decorated for the occasion with palm branches and stands of flowers. President N. C. Hawks wielded the gavel and looked after the comfort of the guests. Eugene Letroadec, accompanied by his brother, Julian Letroadec, rendered a violin solo, the intermesso from the Cavalleria Rusticana, and as an encore gave Traumerei. Both were executed with finish and were heartily enjoyed.

WELCOME BY HAWKS.

An address of welcome was read by President Hawks in which he referred to the appreciation in which the club was held by the mayor who had referred to it as the "Lower House." He set forth briefly the objects of the association and outlined what it had accomplished to justify the appellation with which it had been honored by the mayor.

Another musical number followed, President Hawks, accompanied by his son, Bert Hawks, giving a violin rendition of the "Old Milwaukee Light Guards" at the request of Mr. Adams. This was so well received that an encore was demanded, and they responded with "The Mocking Bird."

At this point Mayor Taylor arrived and was greeted warmly by the club members. Being called upon by the chairman he said in part:

MAYOR SPEAKS.

"It has been demonstrated that when the people of Alameda want anything done they have to come to the West End. You see this is even true of entertainment. Since the present administration has been in office this is the first time it has been honored in this way, and the West End has taken the initiative.

"I want to say to you that there is more real promise for the improvement of the city with the municipal affairs in the hands of the present Council than there has ever been in the past. I have no hesitancy in saying that the present Council is characterized by a unanimity of action and an absence of petty spite to an extent not obtaining heretofore. I bear to you the assurance that the hopes of the citizens of Alameda will be fulfilled by the Council."

WERE ATTENDING TO BUSINESS.

Mayor Taylor then referred to the rumors of censure made against the Mayor and the members of the Council for absenting themselves from the meeting of the Fifty Thousand Club the preceding Friday evening, and explained that the Council had important business to transact at a committee meeting that evening in relation to the improvement of Webster street and had been chagrined on adjourning to find that the public meeting had ended its session. He added that he had spent the remainder of that evening up to midnight in session with the Police and Fire Commission reviewing with them all the rules and regulations for the conduct of the departments that had been drawn up.

Continuing: "It is a pleasure," he said, "for the city officials to meet in such a gathering as this, not so much for the purpose of getting acquainted, for I fancy we know each other pretty well, not only to exchange ideas, but to get from you the inspiration and enthusiasm that will spur us on to greater efforts.

WHY PREDECESSORS FAILED

"In the past improvement bodies have been formed; they have passed resolutions and outlined plans of action for bettering conditions, but in all instances except this one, owing somewhat to the failure of Boards of Supervisors to follow up their action through a lack of public spirit or through apathy, these clubs have died out, and none filled out the work they had cut out for themselves.

"This club had accomplished some noteworthy results. It was due to its efforts that Alameda got its new charter. When bonds were voted on for building a schoolhouse on the Wilson lot on Mound street they were carried by a heavier majority in the West End than in the vicinity which received the direct benefit of the improvement. The club has always stood for the whole of Alameda and I am glad that its name has been changed to conform with this idea."

ADVOCATES BONDS.

In concluding Mayor Taylor reviewed the approaching bond election questions and urged every citizen to support the movement. He pointed out the benefits to be derived from each improvement contemplated. In referring to the Webster street roadway, he asked that patience be observed, as it was necessary to do some temporary filling in to get a proper foundation on which to build the concrete or other finish.

The Mayor's words were listened to closely and he was enthusiastically applauded for his utterances.

The viands were brought forth at this point and all enjoyed the hospitality of the club. Following this mark of respect to the "inner man," an informal discussion was enjoyed as the members were seated around the board.

LOW TAX LEVY.

Councilman Bullock, introduced as a "captain of finance," explained how the [illegible] operation of the city government to a point which admitted a tax levy no higher than that of the previous year. He then went into a comprehensive argument in support of the bond issue, stating that the Council in fixing the tax levy had depended upon the people to furnish the necessary funds for construction purposes, the levy providing only for operation.

Succeeding speakers commended Mr. Bullock for the services he had rendered to the city in putting the new government under way on a sound financial basis and in working out the bond proposition.

Councilman E. J. Probst briefly thanked the club members for their hospitality, expressing the appreciation of the Council.

TUNNEL UNDER ESTUARY.

Councilman Noy took up the cause of former boards of trustees and outlined some of the improvements they had secured for the city. He spoke of a future realization of a tunnel under the estuary to accommodate the two thousand teams which he had been informed passed over the bridge daily, a traffic which he described as increasing constantly. He said insurance rates would be lowered on property following the improvements contemplated in the fire department and argued that the improvement of the Bay Farm Island road would bring through Alameda the traffic to Oakland from Centerville and Alvarado, and expatiated upon other phases of the bond issue. In concluding Mr. Noy urged every citizen to be a politician and get out and insure the voting of the bonds.

Chas. R. Smith, formerly president of the old West End Improvement Association, spoke of the West End as the head of Alameda, the part that contained the "gray matter." He said 50,000 people were too few to look forward to; 100,000 could be secured. He also spoke about transportation facilities and urged the necessity for their improvement.

Mayor Taylor explained in this connection that the city had instructed the City Attorney to bring suit through the Attorney General against the Park street franchise of the Oakland Traction Company in order to secure the improvements which were so imperatively necessary. Regarding the suburban service, he stated that he was in correspondence with General Manager Calvin and with the master of the right of way of the Southern Pacific Company regarding improvement of the streets along which the railroads ran, and informed the club that those officials had stated that the improvement desired would be a feature of the electrization scheme, the rolling stock for which had already been purchased.

Alexander Mackie thought Alameda had good transportation facilities, particularly in the matter of rapid service. He humorously referred to the railroad's dilatoriness in making the change to electricity, stating that an official of the company in selling him a piece of property on Encinal avenue had justified an exorbitant price on the ground that electricity would soon be introduced. That, Mr. Mackie added, was fifteen years ago. Mackie urged that everybody support the bond issue and make Alameda so attractive a spot that it would assume a position as a summer resort. He complimented Councilman Bullock on his successful manipulation of the financial side of the government.

ELKS MAKE GIFT TO MANAGER OF IDORA

BERKELEY, Aug. 16.—The Elks of Berkeley presented a magnificent diamond mounted Elks' head to Manager James Pilling of Idora Park at their meeting last night. Other features of the session were the gift of an artistically burned piece of leather to the lodge-rooms and the attendance of a number of well-known members of the Idora and Ye Liberty Theater Companies.

Twelve neophytes were initiated and after the work in the lodgeroom the members and guests adjourned to the banquet hall where the remainder of the evening was spent in feasting and speechmaking.

Pilling did much to make the recent fiesta of the local Elks a success.

Among the visitors were E. O'Brien, former grand secretary of the Elks, who is now making his permanent home in Oakland; Manager Pilling, Ferris Hartman, Joseph Fogarty, Walter DeLeon and Paul Steindorf of Idora; Frank Bacon and Frank Poultney of Ye Liberty.

PROFESSOR RITTER IS REPORTED AS ILL

BERKELEY, Aug. 16.—Reports have come to Professor W. E. Ritter's friends in Berkeley of his illness at the Marine laboratory at La Jolla, in Southern California. He has been in charge of the summer school at the marine laboratory of the university at La Jolla and clung to his work without taking any vacation. He crowded the work of an entire summer into two months and was constantly at the laboratory.

It is feared that Professor Ritter's indisposition may prevent his return in time for the opening of the coming term at the University.

CITY'S GROWTH IS $4,000,000

BERKELEY, Aug. 16.—According to the figures of Town Assessor Squires, the total valuation of the property in Berkeley is $27,736,570. Last year it was $23,765,499, according to ex-Assessor Wharf. County Assessor Dalton's figures this year showed $28,500,000, and last year $17,200,000. Town Assessor Squires cannot account for the discrepancy. He was not officially acquainted with last year's assessment, but is certain the accuracy of the one just completed.

NO PROTESTS.

"Although the addition of the State Board of Equalization figures will bring up the total of our assessment nearly to that made by the County Assessor, it is apparent that it will still fall somewhat short. We have followed the usual rule of taking sixty per cent of the estimated valuation and consider our figures as nearly correct as posisble, especially so as there have been no important protests."

In detail the figures of the new assessment are as follows: City and town lots, $17,767,728; improvements thereon, $8,805,519; personal property excepting money and solvent credits, $1,029,875; money and solvent credits, $133,488. Total, $27,736,570. Gain, $3,970,001. There are still to be added to this several assessments, such as those on railroads, that have not yet been reported from the State Board of Equalization, and that will bring the total nearly half a million higher. The figures have just been reviewed by Town Auditor Hanscom.

Sir Edward Willing To Swap Programs

THE HAGUE, Aug. 16.—Sir Edward F. Fry, head of the British delegation, has communicated the text of the speech which he is to deliver tomorrow before the peace conference on the question of the advisability of the limitation of armaments to Baron Marshall von Dieberst, head of the German delegation, in order to avoid a misunderstanding on the subject.

Sir Edward will announce that Great Britain is ready to communicate yearly her program for the construction of warships and the expenses involved to all the powers agreeing to furnish Great Britain with similar information. This exchange of news, Sir Edward thinks, will necessitate no further exchange of views regarding the limitations of armaments.

It is now regarded as assured that the conference will end between September 10 and 15.

ACTRESS LEAVES STAGE TO BECOME COLLEGE CO'ED

THEATER CAREER DOESN'T PLEASE

Josephine Withrow Registers at the University.

BERKELEY, Aug. 16.—Josephine Withrow, pretty, talented and quite successful as an actress, will leave the stage to enter the State University. Her application card is filed with the Recorder of the Faculties. Next week she will be a "co-ed." She will be unique, for never before has the University's roster included an ex-actress among the "co-eds" registered there.

In private life Josephine Withrow is Miss Edith Whitney. Her home is at 2545 Piedmont avenue. She has enjoyed a career on the stage, undertaken more in a spirit of fun than with serious purpose, and her work has been in big productions and with "big" people on the stage. The girl laughs at it all, as being more or less of a joke, but withal, she has "made good," and if she chose, could continue in stage work.

TELLS OF STAGE CAREER.

She does not choose, for the present at least. Instead, she has designed a University career for herself.

Asked today about her experience on the stage, and how she came to mingle with actor folk, Miss Whitney said:

"It was some time last summer when Wilton Lackaye was playing in Oakland that a friend of mine offered to introduce me to the great actor. In more of a spirit of fun than anything else, I agreed. He was in need of another person in his cast and asked me if I wished to join his company, and I did so. After one rehearsal, I took one of the minor parts in his play "The Pit."

In New York, Miss Whitney took part in the production by Wilton Lackaye of Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables." She was with Neill Burgess in the "County Fair," and with Etinne Giradot in "Charley's Aunt."

TO DROP STAGE.

When asked if she ever intended to take up the stage work again, Miss Whitney answered with an emphatic "no." She says she does not desire to be an actress as the life does not please her.

Miss Whitney is well educated. She has traveled ever since she was a child and she speaks French and German. She has been attending the summer school at the University during the last six weeks, taking in addition to her regular studies, a special course in French and English. She will continue her course through the regular sessions at the University for three or four years.

TO VIEW SUN'S ECLIPSE FROM SOUTH SEA ISLE

PROF. LEWIS TO BE IN PARTY

Scientist Will Take State University Spectroscope.

BERKELEY, August 16.—Professor E. P. Lewis, of the State University, who is also president of Berkeley's Board of Education, is preparing for the expedition to the island of Flint in the South Seas next winter, when a party of scientists of which he will be a member will observe a total eclipse of the sun from the island.

The eclipse will occur on January 8, 1908, and will be observable from the island of Flint. This island is a tiny rock in midocean, rising out of the sea, and is located some 10 degrees south of the equator, several hundred miles north of the Tahiti group in the South Sea islands.

CROCKER EXPEDITION.

This is one of the regular periodical total eclipses of the sun, and since these eclipses are of rare occurrence, it is proposed to get as much scientific data of the actual eclipse as possible. With this end in view, H. C. Crocker is fitting up an expedition to make observations. A party of eminent scientists will make the trip. Professor Percival Lewis, one of the foremost educators in the State, will take a spectroscope from the apparatus of the physics department to make a study of the spectrum of corona. Professor Lewis is one of the foremost authorities in America on the subject of light, and the result of his work will be looked forward to with interest by all those who are interested in general scientific matters.

The expedition will leave soon after the close of the fall term of college, the middle of next December.

DASHING LIEUTENANT'S BAD CHECKS CAUSE MOURNING

Relative and Friend Accuse Army Officer of Leaving Them to Settle His Accounts With Banks.

BERKELEY, August 16.—Lieutenant F. A. Vincent, formerly Captain of Volunteers in the Philippine army, handsome, and free with his money, is wanted by the local police on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense. B. L. Thynnes, 2924 McGee avenue, and S. E. Lynd, 1638 Stuart street, reported to the police yesterday afternoon that they had been compelled to make good two fictitious checks passed by the dashing young officer, who is a relative of Lynd. One check was cashed at the South Berkeley Bank for $25 and the other at the First National Bank of Los Angeles for $20.

Vincent, who had a slight acquaintance with Thynnes, asked him to identify him at the South Berkeley Bank several weeks ago so that he could cash a check on the Farmers' National Bank, Knoxville, Ill. Thynnes did as was asked of him. Later the check was returned to him marked "no funds" and Thynnes paid $25 to the bank.

In the Los Angeles affair, Vincent was identified by Lynd. The check in that case was on the Cleveland Trust Company and it was also returned marked "no account." Lynd made the amount good to the bank, but later collected the $20 from Vincent's relatives. The second check was passed January 29th.

Vincent is described as being 5 feet 6 or 7 inches in height, weight 195, aged 33, dark brown hair and eyes, good-looking and robust.

PHYSICIAN TELLS OF KISS OF DEATH

Dr. Edith Brownsill Warns Mothers' Club Against Germs.

BERKELEY, Aug. 16.—"Never kiss persons who are afflicted, even slightly, with tuberculosis. It is the kiss of death and should be avoided, even though the natural feelings of mother, wife, son, daughter, husband or sweetheart are outraged."

The above declaration was made last night by Dr. Edith Brownsill of the university faculty to the Mother's Club of South Berkeley at the club's meeting in the Lincoln school. Dr. Brownsill's subject was "Tuberculosis."

In discussing the disease, and means for its prevention, Dr Brownsill spoke in part as follows, concluding her address with the words of warning about kissing tuberculosis patients:

"One in every seven persons dies of tuberculosis in some form. The disease is due to the germ of tuberculosis which gains access to some part of the body. Milk and meats are articles especially likely to be tuberculous."

SHOULD WASH FRUITS.

Dr. Brownsill advised that fruit from markets should be washed before being used—not only on account of the dust from the street, but because it is not known but some person with tuberculosis may have handled the fruit. It was pointed out that the greatest source of infection is in the air, due chiefly to the fact that persons with consumption expectorate on the streets, sidewalks and other public places and that even in homes expectoration from consumptives is often not properly taken care of: that this sputum should be covered with antiseptic solution or, better still, burned. If not thus disposed of it dies and is blown about in minute particles in the air, to be inhaled and reaching the lungs and circulation the germs make their resting place in some weak spot quickly bring about a disintegration of tissues.

The duty of the housewife, it was made plain, was to so furnish her house that all dust can be easily removed; to have no carpets or hangings that cannot be taken out and beaten frequently, no bedding that cannot be washed, mattresses and pollows to be put in the sun once a week if possible, and fresh air always admitted to living rooms and especially to sleeping rooms day and night.

The lectures will be given on Wednesday at 4 o'clock, beginning August 21, in room 113, California Hall, and they will be open to the general public as well as to students.

The chief topics to be discussed by the lecturer are the following: The Spanish Colonial System: the capital of South America; the vice-royalty of Rio de la Plata; an interior province in the colonial times; the colonial city; the social classes; a colonial university; an official report on the Indians; the Indian revolt under Tupac Amaru; the captaincy general of Chili; the great captain general of Chili: the taking of Buenas Ayres by the English; the reconquest; colonial industry and commerce; and Spain's revenues from her colonies.

CEREAL STATION FIRE DESTROYS YIELD NOTES

BERKELEY, Aug. 16.—Professor G. W. Shaw has just made an official report to President Wheeler regarding the destruction of the Yuba City cereal station by fire on July 20. It seems that this fire originated in an attempt to burn some weeds in the field, and quickly got beyond the control of those in charge, spreading first to a straw pile about twenty feet from the house, and thence to the seedhouse, destroying nearly everything contained in it, together with small implements in an adjoining shed and a threshing outfit which was in use near the house.

The most serious loss, however, consisted in the notes taken on this year's grain. The fire spread so rapidly that it was impossible to reach the notes in time to save them. All of the barley and oats had been harvested and threshed. Fortunately it will be possible for Dr. Shaw to obtain the yield notes upon most of the varieties of wheat, inasmuch as the row plantings had not been threshed.

A summary of the appliances and tools destroyed, among which were a thresher, gasoline engine, Planet Jr. seeder, cultivator, fanning mill, etc., places the loss at $524.80. There was also destroyed in the fire one wagon gear and rack belonging to James Gray, the value of which would not exceed $40.

MANUFACTURERS FAVOR SPUR TRACK LAYING

BERKELEY, August 16.—The Town Trustees have received a letter from the Manufacturers Association of Berkeley requesting that the proposed spur track for which the Santa Fe Company wants a franchise on Parker street, be allowed, as they believe the track would do an immense amount of good to the town. The association thinks that if the track is laid it will soon become the connecting link between the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe Railroad Companies.

The matter has been referred to a special committee which is to investigate the matter next Sunday.

A second letter to the Trustees protests against the closing of Berkeley's water front streets and requests that the Trustees cancel any proceedings toward the closing of First street.

The letter concludes as follows: "We respectfully recommend that if any necessity exists for using any part of said street, that the town lease the property required for a limited period at a nominal rental, thus preserving to the town, its valuable rights for the future."

The communication has been referred to the town attorney.

LAWLOR TESTIFIES AGAINST ZIMMER

Tells Why Telephone Official Went to Jail

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Judge Lawlor went on the stand in Police Judge Weller's court this afternoon to testify in the contempt case of E. J. Zimmer. The objection was raised by Zimmer's counsel that the record was the best evidence. The judge overruled the objection.

Judge Lawlor testified that on July 24 the question was asked of Zimmer: "Were you, in February, 1906, auditor of the Pacific States Telephone Company, and did you at that time draw checks, three of them, for $10,000, and others for $5000 in each, to a total amount of about $40,000?"

There were continuous objections by Attorney Fairall to the testimony of Judge Lawlor.

"Did you direct the defendant to answer the question?"

TOLD TO REPLY.

"I don't remember what I said, but I asked the defendant several times to reply to the question."

"Did you instruct the defendant that his refusal would subject him to punishment for a felony?"

"I instructed him as to his rights and privilege and as to the penalty."

On cross-examination Attorney Fairall asked if he had entered judgment against Zimmer. To this the prosecution objected. The question was asked, the district attorney held, to confuse the jury. Judge Weller held this would not be the effect. Judge Lawlor said: "The court adjudged the defendant guilty for refusing to answer and pronounced a judgment as summary punishment."

"What was the judgment of the court?"

"That he be punished by confinement in the county jail for five days and pay a fine of $500."

"Did he do anything else at that time in the way of contempt?"

"Yes. While he was in court he was asked if it would be necessary to instruct him as to his rights. He said it was not and he refused to answer."

"Was there any other act of contempt?"

"There was not."

This concluded Judge Lawlor's examination.

SAYS LAWYERS DESERVE JAIL

Squabbling Counsel in Betrayal Trial Sternly Admonished by Judge Melvin.

The courtroom wrangle between Assistant District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes and Attorney Peter J. Crosley in the Maurice Correia trial on a charge of betrayal yesterday afternoon nearly cost the barristers a few hours in the county jail. The case has been bitterly fought over between the lawyers for the young Centerville barber, and the public prosecutors who claim Correia betrayed pretty nineteen-year-old Rosella Oleveira under promise of marriage.

"If there is not a change in the conduct of the attorneys in this case, I will send them to jail," said Judge Melvin from the bench, interrupting a heated argument between Crosby and Hynes.

"Three times since this trial began," continued the Judge, "I have informed these attorneys that if they did not address all their remarks to the court or to the witness there would be trouble, and as surely as this rule is not complied with will somebody go to jail."

"Does your honor include me?" asked Attorney Lin S. Church, who is associated with Crosby in the defense.

Judge Melvin told Church that he and Attorney B. C. Mickel were not subject to contempt, but it was Hynes and Crosby who might spend part of a day in jail. Mickel is assisting in the prosecution.

Crosby was given a strong reprimand earlier in the day, when he objected to the cross-examination of his witness by Judge Melvin.

"Sit down, Mr. Crosby," commanded the Court, "I will let you know that I am conducting this trial and can ask any questions I choose."

This is Correia's third trial on this offense. All three hearings in the Superior Court have been marked with a strong degree of bitterness between the opposing counsel. Correia was found guilty in the first trial held in Judge Harris' court. In that trial former Deputy District Attorney Redmond C. Staats fought so stubbornly that he made many accusations against Correia. The Court held that these were damaging to the defendant and were quite immaterial, so allowed him another trial. The second trial resulted in a disgreement of the jury.

This trial will continue Monday morning.

BAY CITIES ON PROGRESS BENT

Ferry Traffic Shows Increase of Business and Oakland is Now Metropolitan.

Trans-bay travel between San Francisco and Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley is in a remarkably healthy condition and figures that can be given show a remarkable increase in the population of those three cities and also a closer business relation between them and San Francisco. In March, 1906, for instance, the number of commuters traveling between those cities and San Francisco on the Southern Pacific ferry system was 9919, while the number of single tickets sold during that month was 726,756. In July of this year the number of commutation tickets sold was 13,383, and the number of single tickets 1,151,939.

This is an increase of 3464 commutation tickets over the month preceding the fire and an increase of 425,183 in single tickets.

The Key Route has greatly increased its business since the fire, and the remarkably favorable condition of the trans-bay travel is all the more emphasized.

INCREASE OF POPULATION.

The Southern Pacific people figure that the increase in July of 3464 commuters is a permanent gain as compared with travel before the fire, also that this increase represents 40,000 of the 150,000 people added to the population of the three trans-bay cities since the conflagration of April, 1906. A good deal of the single ticket sale represents travel due to a more intimate connection between the business affairs of the three cities and San Francisco, many firms here having branches or warehouses across the bay, which they did not have there before the fire and on the other hand, a large number of new business houses and factories have headquarters in Oakland with branches in San Francisco.

The Southern Pacific ferry system is the largest in the world controlled by one company. In 1905 it handled 19,000,000 passengers, including State, coast and overland as well as suburban. In 1906, 22,000,000 passengers crossed the bay on the company's boats. This year the number bids fair to reach the 27,000,000 mark.

HAVE BECOME METROPOLITAN.

But trans-bay travel as compared with the months before the fire, the travel after 9 o'clock at night in both directions and on both the broad and narrow gauge boats, is much less than was the case prior to April 18, 1906.

The principal cause of this falling off in the night passenger travel is the fact that Oakland has become a leading theatrical center, having now the finest theaters on the Pacific coast, where first class shows are produced before they reach San Francisco. Consequently Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda folk do not need to longer cross the bay to witness plays, or hear opera.

ASK MRS. EDDY TO BE IN COURT

Christian Scientist's Letter Speaks of Arsenic Poison "Mentally Administered."

CONCORD N. H., Aug. 16.—A reading of correspondence to show the delusions alleged by counsel to be held by Mrs. May Baker Eddy kas continued today before the masters to whom the court has assigned the duties of determining the question of competence.

John Kelly, representing the relatives of Mrs. Eddy who have brought suit for an accounting of her property, introduced the letters, reading from one by Mrs. Eddy the statement that a publisher who delayed proofs of the writings was governed by "M. A. M." which has been explained by followers of Mrs. Eddy to mean "malicious anamal magnetism."

Other letters were produced by Kelly, but counsel for Mrs. Eddy frequently objected, especially to one which was alleged to show that Mrs. Eddy had insisted on an autopsy upon the body of her husband, to ascertain whether he had not been "the victim of arsenical poisoning mentally administered." As this letter was written in 1882, it was ruled out as being too remote.

WANTS MRS. EDDY IN COURT.

Wrangles between counsel were very frequent. Kelley asked for an order to bring Mrs. Eddy into court or permit an examination of her under regular court proceedings at her home, and with several of the plaintiffs present. He also asked for an order for the production next Monday of the books in the possession of the Eddy trustees. Both motions were taken under advisement. The remainder of the session was occupied with the introduction by the "next friends," subject to exceptions by Streeter, of letters written by Mrs. Eddy to her adopted son, Dr. E. Foster Eddy, while he was acting as her publisher and subsequently.

In them she referred to "M. A. M.," "The Redderation," "Mental Malpractice," etc., as being issued to hinder her work and its publication, and directed the use of arguments to overcome this "evil work."

Condensed reports are being furnished to all the leased wire papers in the states of Oregan and Washington and the Portland agency is sending out reports containing the usual quota of words to all of the smaller papers with two exceptions.

CALLS $1800 ENOUGH FOR LAWYERS IN DIVORCE CASE

Frank Pereira Believes Negotiations Pending Between Himself and Wife Will Result in Compromise.

Claiming that his wife's attorneys are asking for $3000 which has not yet been earned, Frank Pereira, the wealthy young liquor man who conducts a saloon on Washington street, this morning answered the motion of Attorneys Snook & Church and Chas. S. Wheeler, which they made a few days ago to get a fee for taking the appeal of Mrs. Anna A. Periera's interlocutory decree of divorce to the Supreme court. Pereira alleges that he paid his wife $600 for attorney's fees which was ordered in the divorce decree signed by Judge Waste. He further says he gave her $1200 for her attorneys before the decree was signed. This he deems an ample sum for the services rendered.

According to the paper filed with the county clerk today by Pereira's attorney, A. J. Dannenbaum of San Francisco, the transcript on appeal has not yet been printed and presented to the Supreme court. He also holds that what has been done in his wife's behalf toward recovering the $34,000 awarded her in the decree, has been sufficiently paid for. The $600 paid on demand of the interlocutory decree was enough for the taking of the appeal, says the liquor man.

LOOKS FOR PEACE.

Pereira also states that there are negotiations pending between him and his wife that might result in a compromise. In this event, the $600 fees will not even be earned, for if they make peace, the appeal will be dismissed. The husband claims that when Snook & Church and Charles S. Wheeler took the case for Mrs. Pereira they entered into an agreemnt where they would get a percentage of what they could succeed in having the court award to the plaintiff as her share of the settlement of the Pereira fortune.

In view of this alleged fact, Pereira says that the compensation of his wife's lawyers is entirely contingent with their success and for this reason asks that they be denied the $3000.

Mrs. Pereira brought suit for divorce sometime ago on the grounds of extreme cruelty. She claimed that on their wedding trip to Europe her husband beat and abused her. The plaintiff also claimed that Pereira was wont to show his affections to other women, which she says brought about great mental anguish.

AUTO IN LAKE; SIX INJURED

One Fatally Hurt When Swift Machine Plunges From Embankment to Water.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Six persons were injured, one fatally, in an automobile accident which occurred about midnight last night in Golden Gate Park. The machine while going at a very rapid rate got beyond the control of the chauffeur, George Harper, and plunged over an embankment into a lake. Harper's skull was fractured and his body was badly bruised. He cannot survive.

The other occupants of the automobile were all injured. They are: J. A. Ferguson, probable fracture of skull and badly torn face; Arthur Goldberg, abrasions of scalp and face and internal injuries; A. L. Newanke, dislocation of right arm and contusion of shoulder; Fred O. Murphy, contusion of scalp and abrasions of skin; George P. Reed, face very badly cut and body bruised.

BIG BUCKET DROPS AND FRACTURE SSKULL

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Michael McCue, a stevedore, working on the Greenwich street dock, was fatally injured at noon today when a hoisting bucket fell upon his head, fracturing the skull. McCue was handling some goods on the dock when a cable attached to a donkey engine broke and the hoisting bucket, which was suspended in the air, fell upon the man's head. He was hastily moved to the Harbor Hospital.

AGED IRON WORKER KILLED BY TRAIN

James L. Johnson, aged 60 years, an employe of the Judson iron works, Emeryville, was struck by the Berkeley local near that place about 8 o'clock last night. The heavy cars passed over the man's legs, completely severing one and horribly mangling the other. Johnson also suffered internal injuries which caused his death a few minutes after he was picked up from the tracks.

It is believed that the unfortunate man slipped and fell while he was trying to cross ahead of the train. He lived on Clark street, Emeryville.

The body of the dead man was taken to the morgue, where an inquest will be held tomorrow.

TO CONFER ON JAP QUESTION

Benjamin Ide Wheeler and Prof. Jenks Will Hold Exchange of Ideas.

BERKELEY, August 16. — President Wheeler of the State University is to hold an important conference within the next few days with Professor John W. Jenks, of Cornell University, regarding the delicate question of Japanese immigration on this coast, and other matters concerning the United States Immigration Commission, of which both Wheeler and Jenks are members.

This commission is to present an exhaustive report on immigration problems to President Roosevelt during the next month. Professor Jenks will probably prepare a large part of the report, and he will deal at length with the Japanese question on this coast.

ROOSEVELT AWAITS REPORT.

The importance of his report is due to the fact that President Roosevelt is expected to be strongly influenced by such facts and figures as Professor Jenks, writing for the immigration commission, will provide.

Professor Jenks arrived in San Francisco last night, having completed part of his itinerary on this coast. President Wheeler is well informed regarding conditions in California, as they refer to the Japanese question, and this conference is accordingly looked upon as likely to produce palpable results.

Both Professor Jenks and President Wheeler are old Cornell men, the former now being associated with the New York University as head of the department of economics.

BRITT-GANS REFEREE TO BE SELECTED TONIGHT

Jack Welsh Probable Man, Schreck-Kaufman Match Postponed---Prof. Lewis Says Burns Was Sick.

(BY EDDIE SMITH.)

Ben Selig and Willie Britt will meet tonight and select the man who will referee the Britt-Gans contest on the 9th of September. The selection will, without any doubt, fall on the shoulders ofJack Welsh, the popular sportsman.

Jack is very friendly with both men and as he has acted in a like capacity for both of the men in previous battles, he is the logical choice. The naming of the referee is the last of the important preliminary details of the contest and when it is settled, the contestants will have little to worry them until the clang of the gong.

Jack Gleason has had an architect at work on the park during the last few days, and he is convinced that he will be able to so arrange the seating so that everyone will get a good view of the contest.

Alex Greggains, the promoter of the Schreck-Kaufman heavyweight contest, has been suddenly overcome with a desire to accommodate, and for this reason he will today ask the contestants if they will object to a change of date from the 30th to the 29th of the present month.

A dance was to be held at the Auditorium on the 30th, and if the fight is held that night the affair would be without a home and the postponement would work a hardship on the committee.

The 30th falls on Friday and as that is generally acknowledged as fight night, the principals may object to a change being made in the date.

The fighters who are fighting for a percentage of the house are equally interested in the success of the financial end of the contest.

Kaufman will locate at Croll's today and the busy days of conditioning will start immediately. Kaufman will have as a partner Joe Gans, who moved to Alameda yesterday. Kaufman has had had some time in the mountains and is already in good shape so far as physical condition is concerned. He will need a world of boxing, however, and all the aspiring heavyweights that are looking for a chance to spar with the blacksmith will be given an opportunity.

Bob Emmett, the Reliance Club heavyweight, is on the list as one of the probable sparring partners, and as the big Irishman is anxious to get all the experience he can, he will no doubt take advantage of the opportunity to gain some new pointers.

Schreck, who has located at Millet's place, down Colma way, has entered into his training with a determined spirit. Mike is very anxious to make a good showing with Kaufman, as he is more than anxious to get a chance at Tommy Burns.

Schreck and Burns have little love for one another, and a victory for either would be particularly sweet. Besides, Schreck is a fighter who, although always recognized as a good man, he has never had the opportunity to get any big money.

Most of his fighting has been done in towns of rather small size, or at times when the game was not drawing well. The coming contest will give him the desired opportunity to get a chance at a big purse, and if it is in him to win, he will come home on the chin strap if possible.

Schreck will no doubt be the favoritein the betting, there are many who remember the awful wallop the ex-blacksmith carried with him in the four-round days, however, and knowing that Schreck is an easy man to hit they place a bet on Kaufman and depend on his chances of landing that old punch that bowled them all over when it landed.

Professor Lewis, who was trainer-in-chief of the Tommy Burns camp and also the trainer of the smaller Burns in Los Angeles, when that end of the fighting Burns tribe was taken sick and compelled to call his contest with Gans off.

Lewis was in a talkative mood and severely criticized the manner in which the postponement was treated by some of the Southern press. The old-time trainer says that the original mistake was made by his not being on the ground when the boy started to train for the contest. It appears that Burns had been training for about a week before the professor arrived and all during that time the fighter had not cared for the more important points of the physical perfection process at all.

"I tried every means that I knew to get him right, then I called in a doctor and he advised me that my man was in no shape to keep up the training, and I sent for McCarey. It was my opinion that it would be better to call the contest off then and have the people know that we did not intend to go into the ring with a man who was not right for a contest than it was to wait until the last moment and disappoint the people," said Lewis.

There is no doubt about Lewis being right about not sending the young man into a battle that is to be the most important of his career unless he was physically perfect. The trainer advances the argument that the contest was not postponed for any reason other the sickness for many reasons, chief among them the desire for first chance, and says that it would be bad policy to let Britt get at Gans first when the man who beats him first is the man to get the credit.

Lewis says that Burns will be at the ringside when Britt and Gans meet and gain some valuable experience. As to Willie Britt having anything to do with the affair he says that neither he or Burns saw the brother manager while he was in Los Angeles.

ANGELS BREAK INTO WILLIE HOGAN'S WINNING STREAK

Los Angeles Takes Hard-Fought Game From Local Players on Misplay in Final Inning.

STANDING OF THE TEAMS.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Los Angeles	66	51	.564
San Francisco	67	59	.532
Oakland	67	60	.527
Portland	43	73	.371

The Loos-Loos sneaked a run over the plate in the ninth inning of yesterday's contest with Oakland, thereby winning the game, and incidentally breaking the winning streak of Willie Hogan, master twirler, in the even dozenth round.

Willie had been on the winning side of the argument for eleven straight games, and he might have come closer to the unlucky mark yesterday had he not made a wild pitch when Bernard started to steal home in the final inning. The local twirler was just winding himself up when he saw the runner start from third, and he tried to get the ball to Bliss without giving the batsman, Cravath, a chance to swat it. He put it well out of Cravath's reach, but he overestimated Bliss' reaching ability. The sphere tipped the end of the catcher's mitt and went on its way to the grand stand, while Bernard trotted in with the decisive tally.

Yesterday was kid day at Recreation Park and more than a thousand youthful fans showed their elders how rooting should really be done. The younsters were all admitted free and they showed their appreciation of the treat by applauding everybody and everything that happened with scant partiality and abundant noise.

Truck Eagan scored Oakland's only tally and he, too, got to the plate on a wild pitch. In the second inning he rapped a safe one to the left garden, and reached third on Bliss' sacrifice. While Burns was going through the motions he made a dash for the plate, and the pitcher threw the ball so wide that Truck was easily safe.

Umpire James J. Kelly made his initial appearance with the indicator in these parts yesterday afternoon, and his distums met with the unqualified approval of the fans. His decisions on balls and strikes were uniformly good.

Los Angeles gathered goose eggs as far as the seventh, but, being game roosters, just kept plugging and sent a run over in this round Carlisle singled, went to second on a sacrifice, and reached third on Hogan's misplay. A drive through the pitcher's box placed him over the plate. Their final tally came in the opening of the ninth inning.

Hymettus Paces a Very Fast Mile

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 16.—The 3-year-old pacing division of the Breeders' Futurity resulted in a sensational victory yesterday afternoon for Hymettus, the bay son of Zombro. There were only two starters, and the race was regarded as a moral certainty for Aerolite, who had been highly tried. It was known to a select coterie that Hymettus had been working in good style, but few thought that he could beat the son of Searchlight. The first heat was won by Hymettus in the sensational time for a green 3-year-old of 2:08¼. This is not only a new coast record, but it is the fastest time made in the United States this year by a 3-year-old. The previous coast record was 2.09¼, made by Agitato over the Woodland track. The world's record is 2.05½, made by the California pacer Klatawah.

The 2.16 class pace brought on a slight squabble, J. W. Zidbell's Diabless by Diablo being fouled in the third heat after taking the first two in 2.11 and 2.12, and getting the flag. Uno, driven by Walker, had been looked upon as the likely one in this event, and after investigating the matter, the judges put Diabless back in the race with fourth place for the third heat and fined Walker $100 for kicking up the first two. The effect was all that could have been desired, for Uno took the next three heats and won the race easily.

In the Breeders' futurity stake for a purse of $1450, Zibbell's game little filly Katalina, by Tom Smith out of Kate Lamry, won easily in straight heats, the time being 2.22¼ in each heat.

The summary:

Seals Capture Easy Game From Beavers

PORTLAND, August 16.—The Seals had all the better of the argument with the Beavers at the baseball park yesterday afternoon, and won out by a comfortable margin. Califf, who started to pitch for Portland, had two bad innings and was succeeded after the third by Schimpff. Thereafter there was nothing doing in the scoring line until the sixth, when things again took a bad turn for the Beavers, San Francisco making three runs, giving them a lead that could not be overcome. Eleven safe hits were scored for each side, and these included three doubles. Seals' advantage lay in the fact that their hitting was timely while the Beavers could not find the ball when hits were most needed. Score.

Well Known Referee Commits Suicide

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16.—Harry H. Stuart, a sporting man of this city and well known on the coast, committed suicide here last night in his room at 244½ North Grand avenue by taking a solution of bromide. He had been on a protracted spree and the notes which he left addressed to his wife and the coroner indicated that he was weary of life and hopeless of doing better. Stuart was formerly one of the best known pugilistic referees in this section. Lately he had been connected with a local publication as a sporting writer. His wife and children reside in San Francisco.

Stewart was very well known here and was always looked upon as a most peculiar fellow. He was of a highly nervous temperament and the northern sports who had seen him referee in the south told some very funny stories of his actions in the ring. At the outset of a contest he had a habit of calling to the fighters to break in such a loud tone that he could be heard outside the pavilion and it was the opinion of all who saw him at work that he worked harder than the fighters. He fell out with Tom McCarey over some of his decisions and since that time he has not been on any too friendly terms with the southern impresario. In his latest work of writing for a paper he was fairly successful.

Denver Does Not Want 'Twin' Sullivan

The following clipping from a Denver paper shows how the people at that section of the country feel regarding Mike (Twin) Sullivan.

The article would make it appear that the writer had a feeling against the Twin, but he would not publish such an opinion unless there was some ground for the accusation.

Jimmy Gardner and Mike Twin Sullivan are matched in Fort Wayne. Let us be thankful that the bout is not scheduled for Denver. Just what the people of Fort Wayne are to be handed remains to be seen. Certain it is that something was framed up for Denver but fell through. In making this statement I want to exonerate Jimmy Gardner from all insinuations or connection with anything wrong.

I have a copy of a letter written to Young Donahue by Mike Sullivan, in which Mike asked Young Donahue to go see Jimmy Gardner and say, "We will box ten rounds easy and cut the money, and no one will be the wiser." Whether or not Donahue showed the letter to Gardner I do not know, but I read the letter, and so did Johnny Corbett and Jimmy Mulligan, and I had the letter copied unknown to Donahue.

Gardner was so sore on Sullivan for something he had done that I don't believe he would have agreed to any such arrangement. It only goes to show that Sullivan was not willing to take any chances with Gardner and he was fool enough to write to Young Donahue and place himself on record. Surely Mike is a fellow who takes a lot of chances and my, how he did howl when the decision was given against him in his bout with Lewis.

Great Ball Game Sunday Afternoon

Bring the "kids" and your Sunday girl! There will be a hot time in the old town on Sunday afternoon and a warmer gathering on the same evening when the losing baseball team will go down in their "jeans" to "pony" up enough of Uncle Sam's simoluems to "quench" the appetites of the victors in which the defeated ball tossers will participate.

The game in question will take place at Freeman's Park on next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the national game as it should be played will be demonstrated by two picked nines from employes of THE TRIBUNE and the hustlers in the employ of the Enquirer.

Both teams are in active practice and thousands of dollars are tied up on the result. Uniforms made in the wilds of Patagonia have been imported expressly for the occasion and the contest promises to be witnessed by the largest crowd of fans that ever perched themselves on a diamond hereabouts. Already 16,787 tickets have been disposed of and from the fact that every runner reaching third base will be refreshed with a glass of Buffalo Bohemian Lager, lends interest to the great conflict. It is a cinch that every man that goes to the bat will do his utmost to meander to the third station, and no doubt will linger there to appease his thirst, but whether by a three-base hit or otherwise he succeeds in reaching the coveted station—only one glass of the foaming liquid will be passed out.

In the poolrooms and at the leading cafes and cigar stores the prospective meeting of the teams named is the sole topic of conversation, the betting is about even and take your pick. As yet no one has condescended to endeavor to umpire the great contest, powerful influence, however, is at work prevailing upon Mayor Mott to undertake the difficult task. The mayor stated this morning if he could persuade some life insurance company to issue a policy upon his life for $100,000 he would tackle the job. However, thus far, no company will consider the risk, consequently it looks like the old lover of the national game, Col. J. T. Moran will adorn a metallic suit and mask and heavily arm himself and with a bodyguard will attempt the arduous and strenuous duties of officiating as to the decisions. Col. Moran was in hiding this morning, as he had got an inkling of what was wanted of him on the Sabbath afternoon.

One unkind fan predicted the score would be 96 to 91, with the basehits equal on each side to the number of one each. Errors won t count as the column in that respect on the score book measures only 5x35 inches opposite each player's name. THE TRIBUNE'S uniforms will be a grizzly black and the Enquirer's of the zebra order. The catchers will wear spurs and dusters, the latter with cannon balls in the tails. It is expected the game will be finished some time before midnight. The Electric Light company has kindly put in 300 poles on the grounds, 500 candle power each, and the stockyards have promised to furnish a carcass of beef, if the boys get hungry before they adjourn to "the feed," that is at stake. One dime will see the fun. Bring all the kids you can find. You were a kid once, yourself.

Later—It has just been learned that those in contemplation for umpires have suddenly disappeared, as if the earth swallowed them up. "Bud" Price of THE TRIBUNE and "Adonis" Cox of the Enquirer have a well-known "fan" under surveillance and his escape is impossible. He will call the game at 3 p. m. sharp, if he has to be carried on the diamond in chains. He is an orphan, has no living relatives and those that will mourn his untimely "taking-off" will acclaim his end was in the cause of allowing the public to witness the greatest baseball contest that has ever taken place in America.

The sports who are fond of dog races will turn out in full force next Sunday at Ingleside to witness the coursing at "Al" Frankie's Roman field.

Young Ketchel After Champion Burns

"When I am through with Joe Thomas, I will go after Tommy Burns."

To the ordinary fight fan who understands that Ketchel is to fight Thomas at 150 pounds, weigh in four hours before starting gong time, a statement of this kind probably sounds foolish, but it must be remembered that the Butte scrapper is growing all the time. He will make the weight for Thoms without difficulty, but expects to take on four or five pounds, between the scale ceremony and the actual fighting time.

"If I were to build myself up for this fight," he said, "instead of making a stipulated notch, I'd enter the ring at about 160 pounds and I've been growing bigger at an alarming rate all this year. Tommy Burns wouldn't outweigh me so much if we were to fight two months from now, and to tell you the truth, I would mind if he did have ten or twenty pounds the best of it. I think I can beat Burns at any old weight."

Ketchel's manager, Jim O'Connor, thinks that his charge is a pipe to win over Burns. "Tommy is made for "Ketch," said Jim, "and after this Thomas fight, we'll be after him red hot. If Burns wants a side bet, he can have it and we're not putting on any limit as to the amount."

Promoter Jim Coffroth signed up a corking good preliminary to the Thomas-Ketchel bout last night. Kyle Whitney and Ed Carter agreed to box ten rounds for him as a ringwarmer on Labor Day. Besides a good sized purse, the youngsters are betting $5500 on the side. This means two great welterweight scraps in the Mission street arena on the same day.

West Oakland Show Next Tuesday Night

The West Oakland Club expect to have a large crowd on hand when Frankie Edwards steps into the ring with Jim Kane on next Tuesday evening. Edwards and Kane are down for the main event of the show and they should put up a bout that is worth going miles to witness.

Edwards is doing his training at the Reliance Club, and besides doing about ten miles on the road every morning, he can be seen in the gymnasium every afternoon working as though the coming contest was to be for twenty rounds.

Kane is doing his work at the Hawthorne Club across the bay and will be in great shape for this go.

A contest that is attracting almost as much attention as the main event is that between tto Horn and Jerry Fairbanks. There is quite a bit of rivalry between these two and as both are evenly matched it is a certainty that their bout will be a rattling affair.

Young Sharkey, a lad who is rapidly coming to the front, is to hook up with Joe Kane in one of the special bouts. At the club's last show Sharkey met Eddie Webber and they fought four of the hardest rounds ever seen in this city. Kane is a brother of Jim and is working with him daily and intends to give Sharkey the fight of his life.

For the amusement of the sports the matchmaker has secured Kid Frenchie and Frank Johnson, two big husky colored fighters, who have been aching to get a crack at one another for a long time, and it is a cinch that they will make the fur fly. For a curtain-raised Kid West is to try conclusions with Dick Sullivan.

Handball Game Will Be Resumed

"Yes, you bet I'm busy, but never too busy to talk handball, and if you want to join the crowd and get in on the ground floor of a fine proposition just ring me up at Oakland 7502 and I will always have time to explain the benefits of the great game!"

So spoke Phil Rosenheim, who is a committee of one on securing members for the Reliance Club's new handball courts.

Rosenheim has always been an ardent advocate of the game and it was one of the disappointments of his life when he found himself without a handball court in town where he could enjoy the sport.

The Reliance Club had no room for the courts in their present location and the members who played the game were without a place to play since the earthquake. It was this fact as much as anything that compelled the club to hunt for new quarters where handball courts could be built.

At the Piedmont rink an excellent opportunity was presented for good courts and the old handball players have taken to the proposition with ardent vigor.

The list of new members that Rosenheim has enrolled contains some of the best-known players on the coast.

Phil is an old-time athlete and is in a good position to talk on the benefits of the game. He is very enthusiastic over the new club rooms and especially the renewal of the old game.

Elks and Olympics To Cross Bats

ALAMEDA, Aug. 16.—Tomorrow afternoon the baseball team of the local lodge of Elks and the Olympics of San Francisco will play at the baseball park on the marsh. The teams played last Saturday and the game went ten innings and the Elks won.

Sunday the Zingg team and the Richmond Stars are to play here. The Krieg and Halton team will play on Sunday with the Outlaws of San Francisco. The following Sunday the Krieg and Halton nine will play with the Zingg team. This will be the second game, the Krieg and Halton boys coming out the winers in the game of last Sunday.

German Yacht Wins Big Race

KIEL, Aug. 16.—The German yacht Wannsee beat the American yacht Marblehead in the Emperor's cup race by one minute and twenty-one seconds. The Wittelsbach, Chewink VIII, Spokane L., and Tilly X. finished in the order named.

Each of the three German yachts has now won a race and not one of the Americans has scored a victory. Tomorrow will decide whether the Americans have any chance to win the Emperor's cup, as only the winners in the first four races will compete in the finals.

Oarsman Will Try Hand at Baseball

Sunday morning the Alameda Boat club nine and the All Rowing club nine of San Francisco will cross bats at the Alameda Recreation Park. Billy Hammond and Tim Fitzpatrick will umpire the game.

The game is to be for the benefit of the Alameda club. For some time the club has been trying to secure a four-oar shell with which to race the crews from the north and south, where they row altogether in shells.

The Alameda club is the first to purchase a shell of this kind, and as usual they lead all the other rowing clubs about the bay.

Ewing Will Give Lacrosse Trophy

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—A meeting of Pacific Lacrosse association was held last night at 423 Golden Gate avenue. The business brought before the meeting was the question of playing a post series of games at Recreation Park. President Ewing of the Pacific Coast Baseball League has offered the lacrose players a valuable trophy if they will play a series of games after the regular baseball league season closes. Ewing believes that lacrosse, if put before the public, would become a popular game. The match played a week ago Sunday after the regular game held the attention of nearly all the baseball fans. They seemed to thoroughly enjoy the play of the fleet-footed followers of the Canadian game.

O'Loughlin Forces Base Running Rules

Silk O'Loughlin is the first umpire in four years of the American League around New York to call a man out for leaving third base too soon, when an outfielder was about to catch a fly ball. Under the rules the runner must wait on the bag until after the ball is caught. Players have an old trick of getting away a fraction of a second ahead of the barrier, and the umpires rarely ever molest them. Yesterday Hoffman was at least five feet away from the bag when Stone caught a fly ball and he easily beat the throw to the plate, but O'Loughlin very properly called him out when the ball had been thrown to the bag. That takes some nerve, when you know that a torrent of hisses is due from the stand.

TURF — Interesting Notes About Racing Matter — By LEE DEMIER — GOSSIP

Contention has arisen between Richard T. Wilson Jr. and John E. Madden for second call on the service of Jockey Eddie Dugan, and the stewards of The Jockey Club have been asked to settle it. When Dugan came to Saratoga Madden thought he had second call on the young man. He was astonished, therefore, when the newspapers announced that Charles E. Durnell had sold second call on Dugan for the remainder of the current meeting to Mr. Wilson. Durnell's contention is that Madden had only a third call on the lad, and that he was at liberty to dispose of second call to whom he listed. The matter was referred to the Jockey club.

ORANGE SALE IS $30,800,000

Shipping Season for Fruit Growers Most Prosperous in California's History.

The orange shipping season just closing has been the most prosperous in the history of California, according to statements by traffic officials of the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads.

Since the season opened last November there have been shipped out of California from Butte county, the San Joaquin valley and southern California, 28,000 carloads. Prices received have been most favorable, so that the gross returns from all these shipments aggregate the large amount of $30,800,000, or practically an average of $1100 per car.

FREIGHT IS $11,000,000.

Of this sum $11,000,000 went to the railroads for freight charges, leaving nearly $20,000,000 for the shippers and growers. All of the latter is not net, however, because from it must be deducted various expenses in the way of boxing material, commissions, cost of loading and money spent in care of the groves from which the fruit was picked. But even after all these deductions the profits for the season have been large, both in the southern section of the state and the orange districts north of the Tehachapi.

Railroad men who figure these shipments in their various detailed aspects state that the 28,000 cars sent out of the state contained 10,620,000 boxes. They have also figured out that the boxes contained in the aggregate 3,276,000,000 oranges. The latter, in packing, range all the way from 96 to 336 to the box, and an average of 300 to the box is considered a very conservative estimate.

The green-fruit shipping season is just half over, and the railroad people state that up to last Friday 2258 carloads had been sent east over Southern Pacific lines, as against 1882 for the same period last year.

COUNCIL WILL PUT LIMIT ON AUTOMOBILE CHARGES

Lake Merritt Dredging Appropriation to Be Considered When Annual Budget Is Before Committee.

An ordinance which has been on the files of the judiciary committee of the City Council for months was taken up for consideration last night, and it is understood that it will be pushed through the council as early as possible. It relates to the regulation of charges, etc., which may be imposed by owners of automobiles, hacks and carriages kept for hire.

The schedule of automobile charges provides that those seating seven persons the maximum limit shall be for fifteen minutes, $1.50; thirty minutes, $2.50; forty-five minutes, $4; one hour, $5.

Autos seating five or six or less persons, fifteen minutes, $1; thirty minutes, $2; forty-five minutes, $3; one hour, $4.

The committee passed the ordinance up to the city attorney to put it into legal shape.

CIRCUS LICENSE.

The judiciary committee agreed to recommend the passage of an ordinance reducing the circus license to $150 per day for the first day a show is given with a seating capacity exceeding 5000, and $50 for each additional day. Each sideshow will have to pay $5 a day. No change is to be made in present charges as to dog or pony shows, or where the seating capacity is less than 5000.

TO ADMIT HEATERS.

Councilman Meese called the attention of the judiciary committee to the necessity of so amending the building ordinance as to allow persons or companies handling heating apparatus under United States patents to put them in buildings.

The matter was referred to the city attorney and he will prepare the necessary amendments for the committee's consideration.

Meese stated to the committee that as the building ordinance now exists there is no provision in it for the admittance of patented heaters into buildings.

STREET SWEEPING.

The City Council auditing and finance committee last night recommended the adoption of two resolutions authorizing the Board of Public Works to sweep the streets from July 15 to August 15, as specified in the contract for the last fiscal year, and appropriating $499 by each resolution to pay for the work. There is now no contract in force for the street sweeping, the contract with Joe Martin having expired June 30.

LAKE DREDGING.

The park and boulevard committee laid over the Merchants' Exchange petition to have $50,000 appropriated for dredging Lake Merritt and filling the north arm of the estuary park between Twelfth and Eighth streets. It was stated that the matter would come before the committee of the whole when the budget of appropriations for the current fiscal year is made up.

"There will be a lot of things in that budget," observed Councilman Everhart.

"Yes, it will be a nosegay," responded Ellsworth. "As to Lake Merritt dredging, we first want an engineering board's report to know what it is going to cost before we appropriate any specified sum of money," he added.

CITY WHARF RENTS.

A representative of the Piper-Aden-Goodall Company appeared before the wharf and water front committee to advocate a reduction of the company's monthly rent for a portion of the city's wharf from $200 to $100. He said that two competitors of his company using the other side of the wharf are only paying $50 a month. He also claimed that his company's business has been falling off.

Chairman Jackson produced a report from the city wharfinger showing that the Piper-Aden-Goodall Company in July and August, 1906, handled much more freight than in July and August, 1905.

Everhart said that George W. Arper's action in getting a reduction of rent was responsible for the Piper-Aden-Goodall Company asking a reduction.

Burns and Jackson explained that Arper's company and another competitor of the Piper-Aden-Goodall concern have been using rather narrow quarters and that their steamers are often compelled to pull out into the channel to permit schooners and scows to land cargoes on the city wharf.

There were suggestions as to transferring the Piper-Aden-Goodall Company to the other side of the wharf. Finally the committee decided to further investigate conditions at the city wharf before taking action on the request for a reduction.

ADAMS' MAP IS ACCEPTED

Councilmen Invite Owner to Give Point Property for Public Park.

After Edson F. Adams had waited in the anti-room of the city council chambers last night until after 11 o'clock, he was gratified by the street committee agreeing to recommend the acceptance of his offered map of "Lakeside Tract Adams' Point Property of Plot 21, V. & D., Peralta Rancho, 1907," for street purposes, and to direct the city clerk to endorse on the map the fact of its acceptance.

As Adams was about to retire from the council chamber, Councilman Burns remarked in a loud tone of voice directed to Adams:

"I suppose this means that you are going to dedicate the 'Point' to the city?"

"I've got the ordinance drawn for that in my office," facetiously observed Everhart.

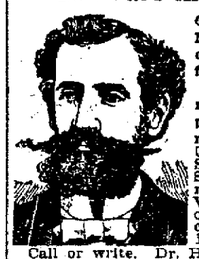

Adams blushed, waved his hand and was retreating aparently in speechless amazement, when Burns added:

"Come, now; dedicate Adams' Point for a public park and be a good fellow for once."

Continuing to blush and retreat Adams quickly got away into the hall where such suggestions do not follow.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM
A good liniment or plaster, or some good home remedy will usually give temporary relief from the pain of Rheumatism, but the disease is more than skin deep and cannot be rubbed away, nor can it be drawn out with a plaster. Such treatment neither prevents nor cures; the excess of acid, which produces Rheumatism, is still in the blood and the disease can never be cured while the circulation remains saturated with this irritating, pain-producing uric acid poison. The trouble will shift from place to place, settling on the nerves and causing pain and inflammation at every exposure or after an attack of indigestion or other irregularity. When neglected or improperly treated, Rheumatism becomes chronic and does not depend upon climatic conditions to bring on an attack, but remains a constant, painful trouble. S. S. S drives out Rheumatism by neutralizing and expelling the excess of acid from the blood. It purifies and invigorates the circulation so that instead of an acid-laden stream, constantly depositing uric acid in the joints, muscles, nerves and bones, the entire system is nourished and made healthy by rich, life-giving blood. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired will be sent free to all who write.

TRUSSES and ELASTIC HOSIERY

We have just installed a complete stock of Trusses and Silk Elastic Goods in our new store, corner Sixteenth and San Pablo, and our three Oakland stores are now equipped to handle this business.
We have all sizes in Spring Trusses, Elastic Trusses and Silk Elastic Hosiery, and an expert in each store for the fitting. We have but one price for our goods, and when we sell trusses or silk elastic stockings it does not matter whether it is a difficult case to fit or not. The price is always the same. Most stores charge what they think the customer will stand. Not so with The Owl.
We make to order silk elastic stockings.

JUDGE GRAHAM FIXES MINUTES

Recollects That He Ordered Four Names of Jurors to Be Placed In Box.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—The prosecution has finally won out in its efforts to have the minutes of Judge Graham's court corrected in order to further establish the validity of the present grand jury and its indictments.

Judge Graham this morning handed down a brief decision which adds the final entry asked for.

"The court recollects," he said, "that an order was made to place the four names in the jury box."

This makes the drawing of Foreman Oliver's name regular, according to the record of Judge Graham's court. It is taken to mean that Judge Lawlor's decision set for tomorrow morning, on the question of dismissing the indictments against Calhoun, Mullally, Ford, Abbott, Umbsen, Green, Brobeck, De Sable, Martin, Drum, Ruef and Schmitz will be adverse to the defendants as his frequently announced reason for a delay has been this matter of the correction of minutes.

CARMEN'S STRIKE WILL SOON END

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—In Union Labor circles it is claimed that the carmen's strike will practically be declared off Saturday night, when the Building Trades Council shall meet in regular session. The leaders of the political game, as played under a Union Labor label, realize that they are in a bad position politically. They know that they are responsible for the municipal administration that is about passing out and that that administration is a stench in the nostrils of the people.

They have also discovered that sore feet are inducive of sore heads. The thousands of labor people who have been walking are much dissatisfied and are becoming more so. They lay much of the blame on the labor leaders. McCarthy, Eagan and others holding high places in the party are desirous of getting the strike out of the way before the general election. The 2000 men that voted the Casey ticket are representative of the men who are opposed to the labor machine. And to these the disgruntled division that could not go to the primaries because of the bunions they have developed since the strike, and the labor chiefs see an array of opposition that bodes no good to the union labor ticket in November.

The plan for disposing of the strike is said to be for the Building Trades Council to withdraw its financial support from the carmen. As this is about the only support the carmen have had the result is easy to prognosticate. The formalities of burial it is proposed to delegate to Walter McArthur, accompanied by a memorial, that he settle the carmen's strike and give it fitting burial.

SAYS HUSBAND DROVE HER FROM SICK BED

In the divorce action commenced this morning by Elsie Philippi against Conrad Philippi, a cabinet maker, she alleges that he was so cruel to her that when she was sick in bed he threatened her life so strenuously that she was forced to get up and run away from him. The wife alleges that her husband is profane in his abuse to her. Mrs. Philippi asks for a month alimony. The couple were married in 1903 and have no children.

WANTS CHANGE OF VENUE.

Jack Gleason, of San Francisco, asks that a change of venue be granted to San Francisco in the suit brought against him by Attorney George W. Reed, of this city, who is suing for $450 damages for the wear and tear on the Reed automobile. Gleason played an unmanly part in the transaction.

CARNIVAL ADMISSIONS ARE SELLING LIKE HOT CAKES

Fraternal and Benevolent Organizations Assure an Attendance of 70,000 From Their Coupon Books.

That the scheme by which the Alameda County Exposition and carnival will allow all fraternal or benevolent organizations to retain fifty per cent of all receipts for tickets they sell has met with favor is shown by the demand for the special admission books. Already requisitions have been made for 6000 of these books. Thus nearly six weeks before the carnival opening, and even before the books are ready for distribution, an attendance of over 70,000 is insured.

The books, which contain twelve ten-cent admission coupons and sell for one dollar each, will be at carnival headquarters Monday morning. Any church, lodge or similar organization will be allowed to take any number of them and return to the carnival executive committee only fifty cents for each. Several charitable organizations have spoken for thousand books each. By selling this number among members and friends, a clear profit of $500 will be made.

ROYAL COURT APPLIES.

A committee from the Royal Court, headed by Henry Tupper, called at headquarters this morning and asked for space in some corner of Idora Park for a booth to be conducted by the order. The committee contemplates some sort of an amusement booth, but has not yet decided just what attraction it will arrange.

SOCIETY WILL BE THERE.

Oaklad society will be well represented in Idora Park during the carnival. Some of the city's most prominent matrons and most popular girls will officiate at the booths to be conducted by the Oakland club, the Ladies' Relief, Fabiola Hospital and the West Oakland Home. In charge of the Fabiola concession will be a new corps of attendants each day.

CARNIVAL ENVELOPES.

One of the most effective boosting schemes hit upon by the executive committee is that of the wholesale distribution of carnival envelopes. All the merchants of the county have been asked to use these envelopes for their outgoing mail. It is a simple request and very few of those so far approached have refused to give this assistance to the public enterprise undertaken for the advancement of the county in general. The envelopes, printed in two colors, are given to the merchants and business men at cost and the carnival management expects to place over 200,000 of them in circulation.

FRATERNITIES INVITED.

Director-General Miller has written to the secretary of every fraternal body in Alameda county and extended an invitation to participate in the carnival. Many responses have been received and that there will be keen rivalry among the fraternities is a foregone conclusion. The Knights of Pythias have partly prepared their program and the Woodmen of the World are working hard at theirs.

COUNTY TOWNS AROUSED.

Reports are coming in daily from the interior of the county to the effect that Pleasanton, Livermore, Niles, Centerville, Haywards and San Leandro will not be found asleep when the thousands of visitors come to Idora Park from all parts of the State. They will be splendidly represented in the industrial exposition and their people will come in large number to join in the carnival.

BIG MEN TO DEFEND BURKE

Peter F. Dunne or A. A. Moore Will be Counsel for Slayer of Switchman.

John C. Burke, the State railroad policeman, who shot and killed T. A. Dumas in the West Oakland railroad yards last Tuesday morning, was arraigned before Police Judge Samuels this morning on a charge of murder. The preliminary hearing of the charge was set for August 20.

While ex-Judge A. L. Frick has been engaged as a special prosecutor by the Switchmen's Union, of which the dead man was a member, it is understood that Peter F. Dunne, leading counsel for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, will represent the defendant.

In case that Dunne is unable to appear on the day of the trial, A. A. Moore will be delegated by the railroad company to conduct the defense.

PEKIN FACING GLOOMY FUTURE

TOKIO, Aug. 16.—Private dispatches from Pekin forecasts a gloomy future owing to the unsettled state of politics there caused by the absence of a ruling mind powerful enough to cope with the situation. The empress dowager, who heretofore has been sole mistress of affairs, is now in a critical state of health. Her policy so far has been to play one minister against another in order to prevent the concentration of power in any single hand.

Inasmuch as the empress dowager is incapacitated by an incurable disease, and as the historical animosity of the Manchus and Mandarins is increasing, the prevailing state of affairs of the Pekin government constitutes a baffling problem. Whatever compromise may be effected between the progressive Yuan-Shikai and the conservative Chang Ti-Tung, there appears little hope of realizing the complete stability of Pekin authority so imperatively necessary to the integrity of the empire and the peace of the Far East in general.

While a fresh guarantor of peace has appeared in the form of the Russo-Japanese entente, peace will be constantly subject to disturbance until some decided measures are taken to re-establish order in Pekin politics. This, however, is deemed impossible of accomplishment as long as a Manchu and a Mandarin survive.

Leave Guns for Safe Keeping; Get Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Samuel Stingely and John B. Curtiss were arrested on the Barbary coast at an early hour this morning by Policeman Cameron, and charged with carrying concealed weapons.

The two men are employed by the United Railroads as motormen and reported off duty last night at midnight, and went out for a good time. They had intended to leave their revolvers at the car barns, but forgot to do so, and so when they entered the saloon of Thomas Harvey on Pacific street, they handed the weapons over to the proprietor with the request that he keep them for them.

When they were ready to go home, they asked for the return of their guns. The bartender refused to give them up. They protested so violently, however, that he saw he would have to give them up, and so instead of doing so, he summoned Policeman Cameron and had the men arrested for carrying concealed weapons.

This morning in the Police court, Policeman Cameron was instructed that he had no right to arrest a man for carrying concealed weapons unless he actually saw them on the man's person.

WILSON WANTS THUMB PRINTS

Chief of Police Also Suggests That Bertillon System be Adopted.

Chief of Police Wilson has submitted to Mayor Mott and the Board of Police Commissioners a report of the investigations of police department work he made during his recent Eastern trip. In this report Chief Wilson recommends that the Bertillon system of identification, together with the thumb point method, be adopted in this city.

He also recommends that a detective bureau, which shall be under the direction of a captain, be established, and that twenty-five patrolmen be added to the department.

"None of the changes recommended by the chief will be made until after the city council has completed its estimates for the present fiscal year," said Mayor Mott.

"This will delay action about sixty days, as we will not know until that time how much money will be available for the police department.

"The chief is in favor of establishing the Bertillon and thumb print systems as soon as possible, and also of creating at once a regular detective bureau. We hope to make all the changes recommended this year, but it will depend on the financial condition of the city."

FAIL SIX TIMES TO SLAY HIM

SAN FRANCISCO, August 16.—Believed to be dead, thought to have ended his life owing to unrequited love, Arthur S. Lee, who formerly lived in San Francisco while representing a varnish house, reappears in the flesh in New York, whence he went to forget beautiful Nellie Kane, his unresponsive sweetheart, and there tells a strange story of six attempts upon his life, the latest of which he escaped only after floating for hours about San Francisco bay.

THREATENS SUICIDE.

On March 26th, Lee wrote a letter to a former New York chum, in which he said that when the letter was received he would be a suicide, having at last made up his mind to drown himself. The addressee of the letter, Harry Burns, a cook, stationed at the Presidio, knew all about Lee's love affair and was sure that Lee had taken his life. Though every effort was made to find the man, he was never heard of again until last night, when he told in New York the story of finding himself in San Francisco bay and almost drowned when rescued. It was the sixth attempt on his life, he says, by persons who wished to get him out of the way because he loved Nellie Kane.

HAD OTHER SWEETHEARTS.

Two other women figure in the life of Lee. He was in constant communication with Ethel Lee Hague of Savannah, Ga., a sweetheart of his boyhood days who pined for him in his native town, where his father was once Chief of Police, and Lizzie Martin, a New York girl, who wrote him letters. He said, telling of the attentions of other men to Nellie Kane and her evident lack of thought of him.

Several times he had threatened to take his life, but Burns did not believe he would carry his intentions into execution until the receipt of the letter on the morning of his disappearance.

HATS OFF TO OTT.

Editor TRIBUNE—Dear Sir: This is to certify that we never had any street cleaning on Fifty-fourth street, between San Pablo and Adeline, until Mayor Mott became our chief. It is to the credit of our Superintendent of Streets that the work has been done exceedingly well. So let us all join Rip Van Winkle, "Here's to your health, and to your family, and may they live long and prosper."

ATTORNEY IN ARGUMENT TAKEN FOR INSANE MAN

The stentorian tones of Deputy District Attorney Phil M. Carey were yesterday afternoon taken for those of an insane person by State Senator John G. Mattos, who stood outside of the court room door of Superior Judge Harris in department four. Carey was in the heat of his argument to the jury in the Joseph Simmons robbery case when Mattos stopped outside of the court room door for a brief moment.

Having other matters to transact down stairs in the court house, Mattos did not open the door, but descended a flight of stairs. The noise continued, so when the senator reached the lower floor he met a bailiff coming from the court room.

"Whose insane examination is that in Judge Harris' court?" inquired the statesman from Centerville.

"Why, that is Phil Carey talking to the jury," was the reply.

SIGN UP FOR DEEP SHAFT

GOLDFIELD, Aug. 16.—A contract has been signed for a 1000-foot shaft on the Grandma mine. This means much to the entire district, as its fruition will result in the thorough exploitation of one of the most popular and promising properties in Goldfield. The contract was made between Arthur Weber, representing the Grandma Mining company, and Contractor Stearne, who is looking after the interests of a large Eastern and Canadian syndicate.

When the provisions of the contract have been carried out there will be a shaft down 1000 feet on the Grandma property and an enormous amount of lateral work performed. A steel gallows frame will be installed, a 100-horsepower hoist placed in operation and a great deal of other work performed. Diamond drills will be used in the preliminary development work.

The location of the Grandma is just east of the Kewanas, where a big strike has just been made, and the amount of work which is in prospect, it is believed, will result in the uncovering of a good body of ore.

Stearne is also in charge of the extensive operations which are being conducted by the Elk Consolidated company on the Yellow Tiger ground.

HOLD-UP MEN ARE FINED TWENTY DOLLARS

Charles Powers and Patrick Deasy, who were arrested several weeks ago for attempting to hold up a Chinese during a lacking expedition through Chinatown, were this morning fined $20 each, with the alternative of ten days in the City Prison.

The original charge against the defendants was assault with a deadly weapon but this was later reduced to battery.

Judge Samuels administered a severe rebuke to both men this morning for their unseemly conduct, and said that, but for the testimony of several prominent citizens, who had interceded for them and vouched for their good character in the past, he would have imposed a much heavier penalty.

unable to speak English. Bruschini appeared before the committee and acknowledged that he is not a naturalized citizen, although he expected to receive his second citizenship papers in the near future. He displayed considerablye difficulty in explaining his position to the committee and Councilman Everhart's motion to deny the petition was adopted.

BOOZERS FROM BERKELEY.

Protests were next heard against the saloon of Landregan & White at the southeast corner of Genoa street and Stanford avenue.

Attorney J. H. Boyer, who said he had lived in the neighborhood six years and had not seen a policeman there more than four times. He urged the abolishing of saloons in the locality and said that Landregan & White's is resorted to by intoxicated people, and that women are insulted by them.

O. B. Cauldwell, also a protestant, and who admitted that he is opposed on principle to open saloons tnough he drinks at home, said that the Landregan & White saloon is not calculated to help the neighborhood.

Deputy Clark Mahan of the Board of Public Works, said he had heard the neighbors describe such scenes as Boyer had told about, but he did not know anything personally.

Attorney Boyer said there were many others who would testify as he had if the matter was laid over.

Councilman Everhart caused something of a sensation by stating that as the saloon complained of is near the border line, it is largely frequented by persons from Berkeley who resort to Landregan & White's and get drunk.

He further explained that from personal investigation he knew that the saloon owners try to conduct an orderly, decent place, but the Berkeley trade rendered this hard to carry out.

It was decided to further consider the protest at the next meeting of the committee.

ANOTHER IS DENIED.

The committee denied the petition of James Higgins for a saloon license at 771 Webster street, apparently because there was a new saloon licensed a month ago on an opposite corner.

The application of Joseph Marty for a saloon license at 801 Clay street was laid over two weeks for further consideration by the committee.

The application of C. C. King and J. Titus for a saloon license at 741 San Pablo avenue was recommended to be granted.

A protest against the granting of a license to Joseph Oakes to conduct a saloon at the northeast corner of Seventh and Campbell street was filed with the committee. The protest, which was based on the assertion that there are 47 saloons within a radius of four blocks of the proposed location, was signed by forty-one citizens.

Oakes' petition was subsequently withdrawn.

The application of the Claremont Wine Company for a license to conduct a saloon at the southwest corner of Claremont avenue and Sixty-second street was laid over by the committee, on the ground that the endorsers of the petition are not property owners. A protest signed by twenty-five residents of the neighborhood was ordered to be filed with the petition, with the understanding that it would be considered if the application is renewed in the future.

WHERE WOMEN DRINK.

In conformity with a resolution adopted by the City Council, Chief of Police Wilson submitted a report containing names of saloons which have side entrances or private boxes where drinks are sold to women, or both. There was a long list of these reported. Chief Wilson explained that the patrolmen had made their reports to him of such saloons on their beats as come under the ban and he had lumped the reports.

J U Bird of the former Louvre at 429 Fourteenth street happened to be first on the list and he was called on to explain.

Bird said his boxes are cut down so that inmates can be seen from anywhere in his cafe, and that women are not served with drinks if without escorts, nor at all unless the latter also order refreshments.

It developed that Bird had cut down his boxes a year ago when directed by Councilman Baccus to do so, and the committee will not at present take his license away, though Chairman Elliott cautioned Bird to keep his cafe decent.

BARNUM'S PASSED.

When one of the proprietors of Barnum's restaurant was called before the committee, that place having been reported by the police as having boxes where women are served with drinks Chairman Ellsworth seemed inclined to pass it along.

"Why not ask a few questions? Why rub the law all one way?" asked Burns

"Oh, everybody knows all about Barnum's," said Ellsworth.

The proprietor of the place was not questioned further

TEN AT A TIME.

It was then decided that the following ten saloonkeepers be cited to appear before the license committee at its next meeting to answer the charge of having private boxes in their saloons where the police report stated women are sold drinks: E. P. Lavorel, 653 Washington street; Joseph Vignier, 551 Franklin street; Silva & Nunes, 674 Broadway; W. H. Schattenberg, 601 Third street; Fred Lubbin, 1055 Thirteenth avenue; Mellow Brothers, 782 East Twelfth street; A. M. Silvera, 701 East Twelfth street; J. Cook, 611 East Twelfth street; Max Schick, 560 San Pablo avenue, and J. J. Collier, 417 Seventh street.

OTHERS ON LIST.

The committee decided, or Chairman Ellsworth did, that ten saloons would be as many as the committee can investigate at a single session. After the abovementioned ten are disposed of the following saloonkeepers will be called "on the carpet," as the police showed their saloons have boxes where women are served with drinks:

W. F. Hrull, 801 Broadway; Danheim & Somps, 817 Washington street; C. Ceregnino, 826 Broadway; D. McCarthy, 1769 Sixteenth street; M. Pozzi, Fourteenth and Center streets; J. OPINION FROM ATTORNEY.

The license committee received a communication from the city attorney in response to an inquiry as to whether liquor can be sold in a restaurant under the authority of a license granted to the proprietor of the restaurant to conduct a saloon when a door opens between the saloon and the restaurant. The city attorney's opinion is as follows:

"Section 5 of Ordinance No. 2203 provides as follows: No permission shall be granted under the provisions of this ordinance to any person, firm or corporation to sell such liquors in any room or place where groceries, drugs, or merchandise, other than tobacco and cigars, are sold at wholesale or retail, or in any room or place having any opening into, or door connection with premises where groceries, drugs, or merchandise, other than tobacco and cigars, are sold at wholesale o rretail."

In my opinion said section 5 does not apply to the condition stated in your letter and that wines and liquors can be sold in a restraurant, where conditions are as stated in your letter. Respectfully, J. E. McELROY, City Attorney.

APPLICANTS FAVORED.

The license committee recommended that the following applications for saloon licenses be granted: A. D. Parsons, northeast corner of Eighth and Broadway; Chris Holfrom, 1103 East Twelfth street; J. Mellettes, 851 Washington street; J. U. Bird, 429 Fourteenth street; Michael Shea, 1805 Seventh street, Wade Williams and W. G. Spears, 832 Peralta street; P. DeBars, 1840 Seventh street, Pagge & Barberes, Barnum restaurant; corner Seventh and Broadway, P. Bordeuare & Co., 419 Fourteenth street; M. Gorcovech and N. Kujachech, 844 Market street; Bush & Ballard, 1151 Washington street; J. Barlascine, 603 San Pablo avenue; Neil Carey & Co., 1252 Broadway; T. J. Cordoza, 1514½ Seventh street; Julio & Mezzacappa, 1040 Seventh street, T. H. McLaughlin, 963 East Fourteenth street; Devoto & Wyruck, 468 Seventh street; J. F. McVey, 1249 Broadway; Frank J. Murphy, 719 Broadway; M. J O'Gaza, 101 Tenth street; Albert Pretionave, 823 Center street, Henry Wiekueg, 879 Washington street, Turner & Dotson, 1766 Seventh street, Ed Fitzpatrick Company, successors to M. Katich, 133 San Pablo avenue and 526 Sixteenth street.

PRESIDENT ELLIOTT DISSENTS.

When the license committee had concluded its inquisition of the various applicants for renewals of old liquor licenses, President Elliott announced that he was very much opposed to the practice of citing the saloon men to appear in person before the committee when applying for renewal.

"It seems to me that it is a waste of time to question these saloon men concerning the manner in which they conduct their places," said Mr Elliott. "They will never acknowledge that they have violated any of the city laws, and the committee simply wastes time without accomplishing anything by putting them through a course of questioning. The police ought to turnish a complete report to the Council of all saloons which violate any of the city ordinances and the offenders should be cited to appear before the committee and confronted with the charges against them In this way the business of the Council can be expedited and the useless formality of questioning each applicant will be done away with.

"In my opinion saloon business should not be handled by the City Council at all The applications ought to come up before the Police Commission and be considered day after day. If this were done each application for a license could be thoroughly investigated. I believe that the new system of bringing each saloon man who asks for a renewed license to appear before the Council will cause dissension in this body Each saloon man has friends in the Council and as soon as he learns that he must apply for a renewal he will hunt them up to find out how he stands and stir up their influence in his behalf. In this way a lot of useless lobbying will be brought about.

"All saloon men will declare that they are angels and that their establishments are models of propriety Therefore it seems to me that it is a farce to attempt to find out how saloons in this city are conducted by questioning the proprietors before the Council. I am heartily in favor of renewing the licenses each year unless there is a protest against them I would suggest that a notice be published of the time for renewing each license, so that protestants may have an opportunity to file any complaints before the matter comes up for consideration."

ELLSWORTH'S VIEWS.

Councilman Ellsworth said that he thought President Elliott was laboring under a misunderstanding. "These saloon men have formed the habit of not coming before the Council at all," he declared. "We think that they ought to come here once a year when they ask for their renewals. The system of sending out notices of each application for a new liquor license is now in vogue."

President Elliott: "I think that it should be extended to applications for renewals. There is more politics done with saloon keepers than any other branch of business and I would like to see this reduced as much as possible Thq action of the Council in requiring these saloon men to appear tonight has drawn a full lobby here and a great deal of time has been wasted. Not a single old petition has been denied a renewal. Let us have a complete police report on the saloons and bring the offenders before us to face charges made."

Councilman Burns remarked that the police report submitted at this meeting was erroneous. "One saloon which was reported as breaking the law has been closed for three months to my personal knowledge."

Councilman Ellsworth concluded the discussion by saying that the committee had decided to try the new plan for the present and note the results. He did not believe that the old system of granting licenses was effective.

$2000 BAIL GIVEN BY FIGHTING CONTRACTOR

At 2 o'clock this morning J. J. Schmitt, a Berkeley contractor, was released from the county jail on a bond of $2000 set by Justice of the Peace Quinn. Schmitt is charged by Oscar Sellers, another contractor, with whom he had a sub-contract for erecting a building in Berkeley, of cutting him with a saw. Schmitt tells that Sellers came after him with threats of violence and when he offered to defend himself with a saw it cought Sellers across the wrist ,inflicting a ragged wound.

WOMAN DIES WHO TOOK CARBOLIC ACID

Mrs. Annie Bennett, who took carbolic acid at her home, 183 Mile avenue, last Wednesday night, died yesterday afternoon at the East Bay Sanatorium, where she had been taken for medical treatment. The body of the woman was then taken to the morgue, where an inquest into the circumstances leading up to her death will be held tomorrow.

KILLS MONSTER DEER WHILE OUT CAMPING

Steward H. A. Borchert is back at his place in the Receiving Hospital, having returned this morning with his family from Vida, Oregon, where for the past month he has been hunting and fishing. Dr. W. H. Irwin, one of the surgeons at the head of the Receiving Hospital, also returned today. While in the vicinity of Vida last week Dr. Irwin killed a big six-pointed buck, which was the largest deer killed in this country for many years.

A GOOD INVESTMENT

Large and small investors should write to D. Urquhart, 280 Homer Laughlin Bldg., Los Angeles, for prospectus of a genuine first-class Nevada mining investment where quick returns can be had on a property that a stamp mill is about to be installed. Plenty of ore in sight that runs from $7.00 to $700 per ton and is free milling gold ore. Expense of mining and milling about $4.00 per ton. Practical and well known mining men in charge. Those who invest now will find it to be the best investment they ever made.

For stores or flats this is undoubtedly one of the best buys in town. Adeline Street near 41st, (east of San Pablo Ave.) right at the Key Route Depot; 33x100 ft., $1500 (4433)

Osgoods' Straight Talk

SUPPOSE you smoke four cigars a day—that's a very reasonable amount. You pay—at all cigar stores—50 cents for your day's cigars.

At Osgoods' you pay 40 cents for these same cigars.

That's a saving of $36.50 a year—and you are not denied a single puff of your favorite weed.

$36.50 is the average rent per month for a good house.

Now if you buy your drugs, medicinal liquors, cut glassware, pictures, soaps, trunks, leather goods, trusses, art goods, etc, at Osgoods' basement bazar you will certainly save twenty cents a day throughout the year.

That's another two months' rent saved—three months in all.

Now if you were to find a little sack on your table once a year containing a gift of three months' rent—but you say that's a fairy tale.

Well—that's all; think about it.

JENKS IS SHY ON JAP THEME

National Immigration Commission Member Sidesteps Burning Local Issue.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Professor John W. Jenks of Cornell University, member of the immigration commission and a man of national affairs, said to be in closest touch with President Roosevelt on the present absorbing topics of immigration, is in San Francisco on a tour of inspection of the various immigration bureaus and carrying on a general study of immigration, to make, with his fellow members of the commission, a report to Congress at its next session.

When seen at the Fairmont last evening, Professor Jenks, who, with Labor Commissioner Charles P. Neill and Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California, is one of the civilian members of the immigration board, of which the other six are senators and representatives of the National Congress, explicitly denied the intimation that he was in California to look into any special phases of the immigration question, such as the treatment of the Japanese, their entrance into the coast cities or the growth of their influence in Hawaii.

NOT STUDYING JAPANESE.

"That is," said Professor Jenks, "I am not on a trip to study the conditions of Japanese immigration any more than I am the exclusion of the Chinese or the entrance into this country of any particular class of European immigration. I am using my vacation months from the classroom at Ithaca to follow into some of my duties as a member of the immigration commission appointed by the president. Some members of the commission are now abroad looking into phases of the matter, and I am putting in the months by a trip along the Canadian border and on the Pacific Coast. I spent some time in Quebec, Montreal and Seattle, and shall go from here to Los Angeles. No, there is no significance to my visit here as relating to the Japanese question—none whatever."

DODGES JAP QUESTION.

Professor Jenks would not be drawn into any discussion of the burning immigration question of California. He reiterated again that he was studying the question and with no reference to races other than as they bore on the general matter. When asked if he had not made it a purpose to look closely into the invasion of the Japanese over the Canadian border, the economist smiled interestedly.

"Naturally I did investigate the matter, but only under the broad latitude allowed by the scope of the commission's inquiry. This, with all the rest of my conclusions, will later be embodied in the report which nine members of the commission will make to Congress. This report will represent the widest study of the question from all sides and from many places abroad where the streams of immigration are heaviest, as well as the areas in the United States where the foreign influx seems to create a grievance locally. The commission will make direct recommendations to Congress, based on its studies, which will then, doubtless, form the basis of new legislation. It is hardly reasonable to suppose we can complete this report in a year. It is a big problem and takes time and labor."

AN EMINENT ECONOMIST.

Professor Jenks conferred with the officials of the local immigration bureau in the afternoon gathering data for his share of the report. He is one of the eminent economists of the United States, being head of the department of politics and economy at Cornell. His original views and energetic utterances early brought him the friendship of President Roosevelt, and his reputation as a publicist led to his appointment as commissioner of the War Department in 1903 to report upon economic conditions in the English and Dutch colonies of the Orient. In this report Professor Jenks favored the registration of Chinese laborers and their admission to the Philippines under a three-year contract system. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan, and a lecturer of note apart from his value as a scholar and man of affairs in the field of remedial economic research.

HOPES TO STOP M'KEE DIVORCE

Father of Cornelia Tevis' Husband Rushes to Paris to Intercede.

PITTSBURG, August 16.—H. Sellers McKee, president of the First National Bank of Birmingham, is rushing across the ocean in order that he may reach the side of his son, Hart, who is once mort entangle din marital troubles.

That the family expected some such trouble, if not the application for a divorce by the beautiful Mrs. McKee, Jr., formerl yCornelia Baxter Texis of California, was indicated by the fact that the parent of the young man was already on the ocean before the public learned of the estrangement in Paris.

When the beautiful daughter of the late Dr. R. S. Sutton asked for a divorce from the rich young McKee, the father of the husband had a kindly word for the wife, but took a firm stand at the side of his son. The divorce papers had scarcely been signed before Hart McKee became the husband of the dashing Mrs. Tevis, and the indulgent parent was the first to give the newly wedded pair his congratulations.

The friends of the McKee family say every effort to bring about a reconciliation. Young Hart McKee has had everything the heart could desire.

BIG CROWDS ATTEND REVIVAL SERVICES

Lee Ander Brown each evening in the missionary tent at the corner of West Eighth and Kirkham streets. There will be several old-fashioned "Wilderness Meetings," at which time the instruments will be locked up and the choir excused. The tent meetings are conducted on a non-sectarian basis and no doctrinal sermons are preached.

of Berlin, Germany, has discovered a cure for red noses, whereupon that fertile wag, Abe Martin of Indiana, remarks that no one with a red proboscis would spend money to cross the ocean. To those who are used to analyzing the smart sayings of professional witticists, this undoubtedly has reference to the proverbial penury of men with searchlights at the gateway of their nasal tracts. But to the lay mind the thought of that army of men with bulbous blossoms on their classic features, who never indulge in ardent liquors and who are constantly suspected of being secret booze-fighters, is uppermost in mind. Well, we can't all have Jekyll and Hyde reputations but we can each and all have those red decoctions with the crushed fruits on top at Lehnhardt's refectory, and we don't have to cross the ocean to get them, either.
